GIRL OF 16 MURDERED

U.S. TROOPS ON GUARD IN CHINA

Soldiers Scattered Along the Route of Peking Railroad by Arrasmith

Imperial Edict of Abdication Expected to Be Made by January 29

KULDJA, Chinese Turkestan, Jan. 25.—A large number of people were killed today and several hundred houses destroyed by a terrific explosion at the powder magazine in the old city of Suldun, which lies to the north of New Kuldja.

MANILA, Jan. 25.—The distribution of the United States troops along the section of the Peking railroad from Tang Shan to Lanchow has now been completed. Major J. M. Arrasmith, who is in command of the expedition, comprising a battalion of the Fifteenth Infantry and other details, called his report today to Major-General Franklin Bell, commander of the Philippine division. According to Major Arrasmith's report Lieutenant Alva Lee, with 42 men, is stationed at Leih Wang; Lieutenant Eugene Santschi Jr., Lieutenant Felix R. Hill and Lieutenant Blaine A. Dixon, with 70 men, at Kueh; Lieutenant F. M. Miller, with 20 men, at Wall; Lieutenant Ernest B. Smaller, with 20 men, at Kaping and Lieutenants Olin S. Ellis and Edgar F. Haines, with 42 men, at Lang Shan. Captain Robert H. Sillman, who is in command of these detachments, has made his headquarters at Kueh. The remainder of the troops are quartered in barracks at Tien Tsin.

ABDICATION NEAR. SHANGHAI, Jan. 25.—It is expected here in Republican circles that an imperial edict announcing the abdication of the throne will be issued before the armistice between the Imperialists and the Republicans expires, which, as now arranged, will be on January 29, at 8 o'clock in the morning. Shortly after that date it is believed a meeting will be arranged between President Sun Yat Sen and Yuan Shi Kai, at which details will be drafted for the establishment of a kind of coalition government controlling the north and south.

Tang Shao Yia, who is still acting as Yuan Shi Kai's representative here, and Dr. Wu Ting Fang, the Republican Minister of Justice, expressed themselves this afternoon as extremely hopeful. It is expected that the negotiators who are endeavoring to bring about an understanding between Peking and Nanking have succeeded in clearing the atmosphere of "misunderstandings" which have hitherto existed. Whether an eventual agreement between the two parties will be reached cannot be foreseen.

CONCENTRATION PROCEEDS. LONDON, Jan. 25.—The concentration of troops in Peking is proceeding rapidly. A large number of Imperial Manchurian soldiers have arrived from the suburbs of Feng Tai and also from Tung Chow, according to a news agency dispatch received from Tien Tsin. The British military

Death Conquers Man Who Put in Condition the Great Champions of the Roped Arena

William Francis Delaney, one of the Old Guard of the boxing game and a man whose fame was known all over the world in the athletic field, died last night at his residence, 1365 Broadway, after an illness extending over many months.

While the passing away of the veteran sportsman was not unexpected, it will cause universal sorrow wherever sporting men gather. Early in life the decedent took to sports and was noted for his boxing and ability to condition men wherever skill and knowledge counted. He was inseparably associated with the history of amateur and professional boxing, particularly in the west. He was a pioneer in training methods for athletes and enforced a rigid discipline and much outdoor work to which he ascribed his success.

A BOXER OF NOTE. He was a boxer of note as well as a trainer and served on different occasions as sparring partner to the men he was training. He was a staunch defender of the principles of boxing and was forever striving to advance it in every possible way. He was not, however, heavily interested financially in the game and rarely made large wagers on the outcome of the contest.

FOURTEENTH-STREET DEAL Is Closed for $65,000

Property on the northwest corner of Fourteenth and Castro streets sold today for $65,000 in a transaction between H. C. Morris and F. A. Miller, the owners, and Mrs. Pauline Ench, who is understood to have made the purchase as a speculation. The property is occupied by a four-story building and was formerly known as the Dr. Gladding place. It is said that it pays interest of 7 per cent on a $70,000 investment, and the sale is significant of the progress being made along Fourteenth street in the way of permanent improvements. Old dwellings are giving away to new and modern structures while business houses are gradually upbuilding into that section. It is looked upon by realty men as a striking example of the rise in realty values in that part of the city.

Guinea Pig Lives 16 Days In Equitable Fire Ruins

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A little guinea pig that had lived 16 days without food or water was taken from its wire cage in the ruins of the Equitable building today. The animal which was to have been used for experimental purposes was found by a chemist attached to the medical department when he visited the ruins of his laboratory. It greeted its rescuer with squeals of delight. It is probable that the little survivor will never be subjected to another experiment.

CLAIMS OF COUNTY MADE

Commissioners Look With Favor on 'Wishbone' Route and Other Roads

Supervisor Shows Wherein Alameda County Pays 10 Per Cent of State Taxes

Heading a delegation of nearly fifty representatives from Alameda county before the State Highway Commission in Sacramento yesterday, John F. Mullins, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, presented the respective claims of this county in regard to its share in the $18,000,000 bond issue for good roads in such a thorough manner that at the conclusion of the meeting the commissioners announced that they looked with favor upon the plans as outlined.

These plans include taking over by the State of what has been termed the "wishbone" route between Oakland and San Jose and the Dublin canyon road through Livermore thence on to Stockton, as endorsed in a resolution by the Supervisors at their meeting last Monday and published in full in THE TRIBUNE. The delegation also endorsed the road north into Contra Costa county via San Pablo avenue and the old county road leading through Stege, Albany and into Richmond.

STRONG DELEGATION.

Chairman Mullins was backed in the delegation by the other members of the board of supervisors, W. B. Bridge, Joseph M. Kelley, Fred W. Foss and D. J. Murphy, President W. E. Gibson of the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary A. A. Denison, Secretary Willard Walker of the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland, State Senator E. K. Strohrieger of Hayward, Assemblyman A. A. Rogers of San Leandro, E. O. Webb, I. B. Parsons and Peter Hoars of Castro Valley; Joseph McKown, George Beck, M. C. Callahan and A. L. Henry of Livermore; Mr. Brockman of Mission San Jose, J. L. Geary of Hayward; Oscar Jasper, representing County Surveyor P. A. Haviland. The meeting was held in the Forum building at 1:30 and the Alameda county delegation was the first to be heard. Present also were representatives from San Francisco, Santa Clara, San Jose, San Mateo and Contra Costa counties.

MULLINS IS SPEAKER.

Chairman Mullins was the first speaker. He read the resolution as adopted by the board and followed it up with a statement as to what had been done by the supervisors of Alameda county in perfecting the main roads leading towards the bay region.

"On account of the great population of Alameda and other bay counties, and the fact that Alameda county alone pays nearly 10 per cent of the state taxes with a property valuation of more than $200,000,000, we believe that we should receive due consideration of the present question as to what our share will be in the state bond issue. Lying as it does adjacent to the bay and the outlet of a great and wealthy back country, it is essential that Alameda county should have a good system of roads.

"Alameda county has not waited for the State to build roads for her. In the last ten years there has been expended within the county more than $1,000,000 in constructing boulevards and highways in a permanent manner. Now we ask that the State take over portions of these lying outside the cities and include them in the great highway system.

ALREADY IMPROVED.

"The routes suggested have been to a large extent improved by county taxes and there remains little for the State to do in the way of expenditure. This fact alone is a strong argument for the plans. "Considering the situation of Alameda county, the demands made upon the highway Commission are reasonable and they have the backing of all the counties around the bay."

When seen today after his return from the capital, Supervisor Mullins said:

"We feel confident that the commissioners will comply with our demands. We have invited them to come down here and look over the routes and we are certain that when they see what has already been done there will be no hesitancy in their endorsing our proposition."

GIBSON INTRODUCED.

Following the opening remarks of Supervisor Mullins, he introduced W. E. Gibson, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and of the Alameda County Good Roads League, who seconded the remarks of the speaker. He said: "We ask that the state take over our roads which are the focusing lines of the main trunk highways leading to the chief centers of population on San Francisco bay, and that the state will so operate them that they will be entirely adequate to the entire system, in keeping with the approaches to this section. The territory directly

Grain Elevator Destroyed By Explosion and Fire

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Fire which followed a terrific explosion, the cause of which is unknown, destroyed the elevator of the Acme Malt Company at Bloomingdale Road and North Forty-fifth avenue, here, early today. Officers of the company say the loss will amount to $200,000. The building was 120 feet long, fifty feet wide and 100 feet high. The elevator contained much grain. The detonation was heard several miles. Tons of grain and parts of the wrecked building were thrown in the air. It was reported that a number of employees had been killed but no bodies were found.

This morning the dead body of the girl was found in a vacant lot within a block of the home where she was employed as a domestic. A bullet hole disclosed the cause of death. Merritt is not to be found.

That the girl was murdered is believed by the officers, and they are now endeavoring to find Merritt.

Four in Monoplane Make New Record

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—A new endurance record for a flight in an aeroplane carrying the airman and three passengers was created today at the aerodrome at Jannesthal by Dr. Gulrich, who, with three companions, stayed one hour and 35 minutes in the air in his Harlan monoplane. The French aviator Besson has hitherto held the duration record for a flight of an aeroplane carrying the pilot and three passengers. On March 10, 1911, with three companions he remained 31 minutes 23.15 seconds in the air at Rhilms in his Deperdussin machine.

ANNUAL TELLS FULL STORY OF MARVELOUS ACHIEVEMENTS

By A. A. DENISON, Secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. THE TRIBUNE'S Annual is one of the most comprehensive records of the achievements of Oakland and of the resources of Alameda county ever issued. It tells the story of the marvelous civic, commercial and industrial progress of the east bay shore cities and serves to confirm confidence in the future of Oakland and its environs. THE TRIBUNE in this special issue supplies just the information desired by the prospective investor and the home-seeker, and its wide circulation will be of inestimable value to the community.

WILL NOT SEEK FIGHT.
PEKING, Jan. 25.—The imperial government has decided, apparently, not to take the initiative of seeking a battle with the revolutionary forces. The imperial generals have been ordered to await the advance of the republican troops, but military preparations are proceeding actively throughout the northern part of China.

Premier Yuan Shi Kai continues in favor with the court. He was created marquis today and was notified of honor conferred upon him by Prince Chun, the ex-regent, who informed him that the throne desired in his way to mark its appreciation of his loyalty and labor in its interest.

A responsible foreign financier has advised China a large loan for the purpose, in the first place, of paying off the overdue loan coupons, the balance remaining to be levied equally between the imperial government and the revolutionaries, both sides to accept full liability for the advance of the loan.

The imperial government agreed to accept the offer, which was then submitted to the revolutionary leaders, who tersely replied that they did not want money.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Secretary Knox, in response to the Senate foreign relations committee's request for information concerning the recent dispatch of American troops to China, made a report to the sub-committee today stating that the President had ordered the troops to be sent to China under the provisions of the protocol of 1901.

The committee probably on Wednesday will take up Senator Hitchcock's resolution in which he contended that the President had no right without authority of Congress to order troops to China unless there was an emergency requiring protection of American lives and property. Senator Hitchcock will address the Senate on the subject after the committee reports.

ly served by these Alameda county converging lines embraces taxable property aggregating $404,687,611, or more than one-sixth of the property valuation of the entire state.

He was followed by A. A. Denison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who presented to the commissioners the map of Alameda county, showing the approach of the main trunk lines to the county line and the highways in the county. The map had been prepared by County Surveyor Hayland at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, and gave in such a concrete fashion the status of the road question in the county that the commissioners asked that they be allowed to keep it for future reference.

EXPENSE IS LITTLE.
Denison in the course of his remarks said:
"Alameda county is making practically no demand on the commission for much expense from the $18,000,000 road fund. Instead, the county is practically turning over to the commission boulevards representing exclusive rights of way, an expenditure of $750,000 in construction, asking only that sufficient money be expended by the commission to bring the roads up to the standard required."

"In turn we of the county ask that the commission so shape up the main trunk lines without the county that they connect with the roads within the county constructed by our own people. This should not be a difficult matter to do, as we have common interests in the matter with all the counties on every side of us, namely Contra Costa, San Joaquin and Santa Clara."

At this point the question was raised as to whether Alameda county could guarantee to the commission one requirement, namely, that all rights of way for roads within the county have been secured, and that all bridges have been constructed, those being features of the expense of construction which the commissioners will require the counties to look after. On being assured that Alameda county could guarantee those requirements the commissioners expressed themselves as well satisfied with the showing.

WALKER SPEAKS.
Supervisor Foss as former president of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, as well as Supervisor, further echoed the sentiments of the residents about the bay, and was followed in turn by Wilber Walker of the Merchants Exchange.

Walker, in the course of his remarks, spoke of the united front of the residents of the county were putting up for the highways and further declared that the unanimity of opinion shown by the citizens of all the sections about the bay spoke well for the propositions, showing that there was one and only one decision to be made in the matter of routes.

Supervisor Murphy concurred in the expressions made of the situation and sentiments of the county, which sentiments were echoed in a few remarks by Supervisors Kelley and Bridgman. Joseph McKenna of Livermore, acting for the Chamber of Commerce and Woman's Club of that place, presented the commissioners with resolutions setting forth the wishes of the county, following which Oscar Jasper, acting for County Surveyor Hayland, turned over to the committee the data and maps asked for by the commission.

EXTENDS INVITATION.
As a final conclusion to the hearing Supervisor Mullins extended an invitation to the members to visit Alameda county and go over the roads, saying that the services of the members of the Board of Supervisors and delegates from the surveyor's office would be at the disposal of the visitors.

"While of course the commissioners expressed no opinion on our presentation," Secretary Denison of the Chamber of Commerce said on his return this morning, "we feel that our absolute lack of dissension as to routes, the solid front which we presented by such a large delegation and the formidable array of data which we presented made a favorable impression on the commissioners, and that we are in a fair way to get what we want."

WILLIAM DELANEY HAS PASSED AWAY

Famous Trainer of Champion Pugilists Dies After a Lingering Illness.

recently died at Berkeley, was at the ringside and there and then said of the big fellow that he would some time become champion of the world.

DISCOVERS JIM JEFFRIES.
Delaney took note of that remark and soon looked up Jeffries. In July, a month after the Sharkey-Corbett fight, Delaney began the development of Jeffries and while the rest of the world ridiculed his efforts in behalf of the big brawler, Delaney never faltered and his efforts were at last rewarded when he saw Jeffries the champion of all the world and the conqueror of Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Sharkey and many lesser lights of the game.

JEFFRIES MISSED DELANEY.
In 1909, after many years of association with James J. Jeffries, in which Delaney helped the brawler on to fame and fortune, a breach arose between the trainer and the boxer and they parted company. When the press began to agitate a contest between Jack Johnson, who had just conquered Tommy Burns in Australia, and Jim Jeffries, the erstwhile trainer and adviser of the brawler, undertook the conditioning of the colored man, and it is acknowledged that his painstaking efforts are what put the colored man in the van as champion of all the world in the heavyweight class.

In the meantime Delaney was striving to develop Al Kaufman as a white hope, for it was always his conviction that Johnson would eventually defeat Jeffries and take his crown from him. Kaufman, though, was found wanting, and a year ago Delaney practically retired from the game.

CONTRACTS FATAL ILLNESS.
Several months ago he paid a visit to his sisters, of which he has three in New York, and while there contracted a severe cold. Three months ago he returned home and since that time continued to fail.

Delaney was a native of New York, where he was born on January 8, 1854. He came to Oakland, however, in the early 70's, and had been associated with this city since that time. His death was due to liver trouble and a general breakdown following the severe cold which he contracted in the East. Dr. Charles H. Rowe attended him in his last illness, death occurring at 9:40 last night. The dead man is survived by a widow, Mrs. Jessie Delaney, and his three sister living in New York.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday under the undertaking parlors of Albert Brown, 570 Thirteenth street, the services being private. At the dead man's request there will be no flowers. The remains will be cremated.

—See Bella Vista Park Now

Out by the Home Club $25.00 per front foot
All improvements completed.

There's a man in Oakland (we'll call him Bill Jones, because that is not his name), who had an opportunity once but couldn't see it. He was offered the block at Twelfth and Broadway for $7000 and today it is worth considerably over a million.

Bill has learned to his sorrow that real estate opportunities never come back.

Don't be a Bill Jones. Your opportunity is right now to at least investigate Bella Vista Park.

Bella Vista Park is the last close-in hillside property with a marine and hill view that will ever be sold in Oakland for as little as $25 and $30 per foot.

For one solid week we are advertising this property—we are telling every man and woman around the bay what The Realty Syndicate intends doing for Oakland this year. We are going to put every foot of our beautiful Fourth Avenue property on the market and start a selling campaign that will cover those rolling hills with magnificent homes.

Bella Vista Park is the first, the smallest and by far the choicest tract at the price that we will market.

It is opposite the Home Club adjoining Fourth Avenue and but ten minutes' ride on the Fourth Avenue car line from Twelfth and Broadway.

There are only 75 lots in this tract and we have priced them at from $15 to $25 per foot below prices private owners are asking for adjoining property.

The streets, sidewalks, water, gas, electricity, sewers, etc., are all installed—the purchase price includes everything complete.

INVESTORS IN BELLA VISTA PARK WILL DOUBLE THEIR MONEY INSIDE OF TWO YEARS.
If this was not an absolute fact The Realty Syndicate could not afford to say so.

HERE IS THE REASON.
Bella Vista Park is only a small part of the property we will sell in the vicinity of the Home Club. The bulk of our holdings will go at from $75 up to $200 per foot, and is property very wealthy people must buy. These buyers will expect and are entitled to have nothing but handsome homes adjoining them. It is up to us to see that they get them. We have carefully thought the matter out from every angle and have decided that by putting a building restriction of $3000 on Bella Vista Park and making specially low prices on the land so that investors will make an immediate profit, we will have the majority of the lots built on by the time our other property is ready for the market.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES.
You can invest in a lot in Bella Vista Park by taking advantage of our monthly payment plan if you desire. $300 down and $30 monthly, which includes the interest charge at 6% per annum, will carry the lot for you until you decide to sell. Some investors carry several lots in this manner, whereas if they had to pay all cash they could afford to carry but one.

This is a very satisfactory way to make money in real estate. Suppose you buy a lot for $1500 and carry it for 12 months. You have paid $300 down and $30 a month for 12 months—total $660. If then, at the end of the year you sell your lot for $2500 you have made $1000 profit on an investment of only $660.

If you will go out to Bella Vista Park and stand on one of the terraced lots looking out towards the bay and over miles of Oakland and picture this property as it will be in the year of the great exposition, covered by charming homes and the lawns and flowers that grow so luxuriantly in this peculiarly warm belt, while all around are magnificent costly mansions, and then remember that this is now but ten minutes' car ride from Twelfth and Broadway and is selling away below adjoining property values, you will know why your money is going to double and treble here, and that your opportunity is in Bella Vista Park right now.

Grand opening sale Saturday and Sunday next. Make your selection and reservation now.

CHURCH TO TRY SALOONKEEPER

"Drunkard's Wife" and Tattered Children to Appear in the Case.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—A bible class of a South Side Baptist church will hold a mock trial tonight in which a "saloon-keeper" will be the defendant in a suit brought by a "drunkard's wife," who is the mother of four small children, one an infant, which she will carry in her arms.

The part of the wife will be taken by Miss Edith Brown. She will wear a worn shawl on her head and a dress in tatters. The other three children will cling to her skirts in ragged garments.

The purpose of the trial is to show drunkards' wives that they have cause to object to the interpretation of the Illinois dram shop laws.

As they mounted the steps the armed man stepped out of the shadow of the building and covered them with his revolver. He ordered them to put up their hands and Michael obeyed instantly.

William Daberan hesitated for a moment. There was a repetition of the command. Before he could get his hands up the highwayman pulled the trigger and a bullet of heavy caliber struck him in the abdomen.

As the wounded man fell in the arms of his brother the murderous thug jumped over the low front fence and disappeared.

SEARCH FOR MISSING GIRL IS FRUITLESS
ELMHURST, Jan. 25.—After having made a vain search for his 14-year-old daughter, Pearl Engeldorf, G. G. Engeldorf, of 2332 Eighty-fourth avenue, appealed to the Oakland police to aid him. The girl, until last Sunday, was living with her uncle, W. C. Engeldorf, 3225 East Twelfth street, Fruitvale. She left there saying she had found employment, but the girl's father fears she has fallen into evil hands.

William Daberan lives with the family of his brother, Michael, at 384 Kansas street. He and the brother had been at the home of friends and did not return to their own residence until nearly midnight.

As they mounted the steps the armed man stepped out of the shadow of the building and covered them with his revolver. He ordered them to put up their hands and Michael obeyed instantly.

GIVEN DIVORCE AT SECRET TRIAL

Captain L. A. Dunnigan of the Ferryboat San Pablo Charged With Cruelty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Charges that her husband had choked her, pounded her head upon the floor and paid undue attention to other women; that he had mistreated her 7-year-old son by a former husband, and that he had made their brief married life miserable in a general way, were the grounds upon which Mrs. Ida M. Dunnigan of Berkeley was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Captain Lawrence A. Dunnigan, of 1509 Hearst avenue, in the same city, by Judge Mogan.

Dunnigan, who is captain of the Santa Fe ferryboat San Pablo, had filed an answer to the complaint of his wife, but withdrew it at the last moment, and when the case was heard behind closed doors failed to appear to answer any of the charges.

HEARING IS SECRET.
Many of the allegations made by Mrs. Dunnigan, who was permitted to resume her maiden name of Ida E. Whitfield, were of such a nature that Judge Mogan permitted the secret hearing. Mrs. Dunnigan is an attractive young woman coming from a prominent Oakland family. A property settlement was made out of court.

The wife charged the ferryboat captain with extreme cruelty. She alleged that he frequently used his fists on her with telling effect, and sometimes accompanied his physical punishment with slurring remarks concerning her young son. She declared that his treatment of her in an alleged inhuman way began shortly after their marriage, January 29, 1908, until she left his home through fear of further violence.

SECURED LETTERS, SHE SAYS.
Before leaving the residence on Hearst avenue, Mrs. Dunnigan, according to her testimony, obtained possession of a number of letters from a young woman acquainted with the captain, which were filled

Blandin, an attorney of 57 Jessie street, made an offer in Judge Seawall's court this morning to purchase the entire assets of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company at a cash valuation of $2,150,000. He claims to represent eastern financial interests and declares that he has no personal interest in the transaction.

Two years ago Blandin attracted considerable notice locally by reason of his appointment as receiver of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, which position he held for less than twenty-four hours. He had made out an order for his own appointment and handed it to Judge Seawall to sign. The court affixed his signature, believing it to be another document, and was surprised to learn that he had appointed Blandin when he read the newspapers next morning. At that time the attorney represented a minority of the stockholders.

HELD TO ANSWER ON FELONY CHARGE

Youth Giving Name of Another Must Face Trial in the Superior Court.

For passing a fictitious check, on which he had written the greeting, "Merry Christmas from papa," a man giving the name of Ray A. Caverley, Jr., was held to answer before Judge George Samuels on a felony charge this morning, being bound over for trial before the Superior Court on $2,000 bail. The charge is based on an information filed by S. P. Blumen of 1776 Telegraph avenue, upon whom the check was passed.

The alleged check passer, who still insists upon borrowing the name of Ray Caverley, a San Francisco Insurance agent, has refused to disclose his identity. He is said to have passed several checks in Oakland.

The Christmas present check passed on Blumen was cashed December 23. The check passed volunteered the information that it was a gift from his father, and pointed to the greeting in the corner to prove his words. The name used was suggested to the check passer, it is believed, by his finding a business card belonging to the genuine Caverley. The real Caverley failed to appear in court today to prove that the signature on the check was not his, and the charge was changed from forgery to passing a bad check.

MINERS ADOPT
PLAN FOR RECALLTen Per Cent of Membership
May Initiate the Proceedings.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—Recall of officials of the United Mine Workers of America is provided in a constitutional amendment adopted today by the miners' convention. Ten per cent of the membership may initiate a recall and on petition of 30 per cent an election shall be held.

Attempts by some of the leaders, especially among Socialists, to reduce the percentages failed, though they declared the recall machinery as stipulated was too cumbersome ever to be effective.

President John P. White urged caution in introducing the reform and supported the plan as adopted. He declared in favor of the recall of judges and said if it had been available years ago trades unions would not have suffered the wrongs from the courts that had impeded its progress.

FOR THE TRIBUNE ANNUALBerkeleyans Appreciate This Paper's Articles on Growing University City

ORDS of praise for THE TRIBUNE annual continue to pour into this office. On all sides appreciation is expressed for the excellence of the annual and for the great good it has done and will do for Alameda and the adjoining counties.

Berkeley likes the annual. It told all about that thriving university city, as well as all about all of the rest of this county. The following are a few of the expressions of praise received at this office:

C. R. LEWIS—An Irishman and a Yankee were viewing the Niagara Falls and the Yankee exclaimed: "How wonderful!"

"What's wonderful?" said the Irishman.

"Why to see that large flow of water falling over that precipice," said the Yankee.

"Sure, what the devil is to hinder?" said the Irishman.

Yes, a large and interesting paper, but what is to hinder? The rapid and unprecedented growth of city of Oakland furnishes material for a great paper every day, with THE TRIBUNE assembling the matter. We say for THE TRIBUNE. Well done, good and faithful servant.

In THE TRIBUNE'S great Annual may be found a condensed description of what is going on in this busy, bustling young city, and a newspaper that dwells in this community and pretends to be up-to-date must certainly "get a move on" to keep up with the procession.

Oakland is a live modern city and necessarily THE TRIBUNE must be so to satisfy the demand, and I now advise the managers of the paper that they may expect a merry and lively chase to keep abreast of the wonderful progress to be made by Oakland in the coming years.

Berkeley Decried
Fully in Annual

BERKELEY, Jan. 25.—Berkeley citizens are still expressing their enthusiasm over THE TRIBUNE Annual. Here are some things they are saying about it:

WALTER P. WOODWARD, president Merchants' Exchange—I am glad to see anything in the way of a publication which does Berkeley justice by presenting fully the city's charms and advantages. This THE TRIBUNE Annual has done most faithfully and completely. The edition should be sent broadcast over the east.

REV. J. A. B. FRY, D. D., pastor Epworth Methodist church—The Annual is an excellent piece of work and is well gotten up. Apparently nothing of industrial, educational, religious and civic interest has been overlooked in its stories and illustrations.

A. W. NAVLOR, president First National Bank—I am particularly pleased with the magazine form which THE TRIBUNE adopted some time ago for its Annual. It is of convenient size, and for such an edition is preferable to the large sheets upon which many such papers are printed. This year's Annual is one of the best I have seen.

CLYDE E. ABBOTT of Abbott's book store—THE TRIBUNE Annual, like the regular editions of the paper, "covers" Alameda county. The edition, I found after careful reading, is the best THE TRIBUNE has ever issued. I have always regarded THE TRIBUNE as a county paper, which of course devotes special attention to Oakland and the other bay cities. It is fitting, then, that the Annual deals with the resources of one of the banner counties of the state. Berkeley is given just attention, in keeping with its circulation in this city and with its policy of giving all the news of Berkeley.

C. D. MALONEY, superintendent Berkeley division, Peoples Water Company—Apparently no phase of Berkeley's advancement has been neglected in the illustrations and descriptive articles in THE TRIBUNE annual just issued, which is one of the best which this journal has ever produced. Progress in this city has been notable during the last year, and it has been given deserved attention in the Annual.

POWERFUL SEIDS
TRACE MURDERER

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 25.—Backed by the money and influence of the powerful Seid family, police detectives of this city are bending every energy towards finding Choi Sin, a Chinese woman from whose room the trunk which contained the mutilated body of Seid Bing is believed to have been taken on December 21 and checked to Seattle where it was found yesterday. A report that she was arrested last night at The Dalles, Ore., proved to be untrue.

Portland police are inclined to believe that robbery was the motive of the crime. They say that Seid Bing had the reputation of carrying a large sum of money with him and also that he wore valuable jewelry. Neither jewelry nor money was found on the body in Seattle.

"Boost" Spirit Is Shown by Tribune

By C. S. MERRILL,

Postmaster of Berkeley.

The annual number of THE TRIBUNE, under date of January 17 is but another evidence of the energy and exhilarating "boost" spirit now pervading the atmosphere of our sister city, Oakland. Coming just on the eve of our great exposition, when the eyes of the world are focused on the Pacific Coast, it cannot help but attract the attention of thousands of prospective sojourners and future residents of California who will, through this very means, cast their lot on this side of our magnificent bay. There is just enough reference to the night of the "Boost" and praise are certainly due to all who have been instrumental in the compilation and makeup of this excellent edition.

MURDERER WALKS
45 MILES TO JAIL

Travels All Night to Tell the Officers That He Had Killed His Man.

FRESNO, Jan. 25.—Jose Maria Carpio, a Mexican, surprised the local sheriff's office this morning when tired and travel-stained, he announced that he had just arrived from a point five miles beyond Mendota, where he had killed a man. Mendota is forty miles from this city and Carpio said that after killing his man, last night, he had walked all night to Fresno to accompany the officers so that they might view the body today.

The Mexican gave few particulars. Through an interpreter he declared that the tragedy was the outcome of a fight but more he would not state. Early this morning Sheriff McGowan and District Attorney Church hastened to the scene in an automobile, Carpio accompanying them. They will not return until late this afternoon.

Supercedes Massage
As Wrinkle Remover

(The Woman Beautiful.)

Many women regularly visit the beauty specialist to have their wrinkles ironed out with the help of hot applications, cold creams and massage. Most of us realize that there comes a time when no amount of persuasion of this sort will avail. This process of "wrinkle removing" is wrong in principle. Both the hot water and the massaging tend to expand and loosen the skin, besides softening the muscular foundation.

The very opposite result should be aimed at. The tissue should be strengthened, the skin tightened, so there'll be no room for wrinkles. The best known preparation for the purpose can be made at home by dissolving 1 ounce of salicylic acid in 1 pint of water. Use as a wash lotion. The effect is really marvelous. Tell the druggist you want the powdered salicylic, which dissolves immediately.

SALARIES CUT IN CUSTOMS HOUSE

Five Have Pay Checks Trimmed, While Two Secure
Additional Sums.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Every time Collector of Customs Fred Stratton touched his bell yesterday, and summoned a federal official there was unpleasant news to convey. There was grief holding sway among the higherups as well as some of the lowerdowns, when they were informed that their salaries had been reduced, according to a communication from the Treasury Department. There were only two exceptions when the ring of the bell did not toll doleful news, and that was when the fortunate persons were informed of a raise in salary.

The following are those whose salaries were reduced, what they have received in the past and what they will receive in the future:

Henry B. Farmer, chief clerk, with compensation at $625 per annum, is reduced to $500.

Clement G. Perkins, auditor of customs, $2350 per annum, reduced to $2000.

Charles A. Stephens, clerk and chief boarding officer, reduced from $2700 to $2500.

Frank W. Cushing, acting deputy collector at the sub-port of Oakland, reduced from $1800 to $1400.

Charles H. Blinn, special deputy surveyor, $3000, reduced to $2700.

TWO WILL GET RAISE.

Here are the names of the two who will enjoy a raise:

Raymond H. Wilcox, deputy collector in charge of the customs bureau of the postoffice, $1800 per annum, raised to $1850.

Charles T. Cook, chief clerk in the surveyor's office, $1800 per annum, raised to $2200.

After the salaries had been adjusted yesterday Collector Stratton turned his attention to the discipline and imposing of fines upon those who, in the employ of the customs service, were found guilty of receiving bottles of whiskey from former Storekeeper Daniel O'Connell of the Haslett bonded warehouse a year ago.

SUSPENDED FROM DUTY.

The names of the employees who are suspended from duty and pay follow:

Charles E. Beal, acting deputy collector of warehouses, suspended from duty and pay for ten days; Charles A. Reynolds, clerk in cashier's office, five days; John Green, inspector of customs, two days; Charles J. Comyns, inspector of customs, two days; Charles H. Osborne, clerk in naval office, two days; Walter D. Hoyt, stenographer to the collector, two days; W. H. Sells, clerk in charge of record room, two days; Alfred A. By, clerk in auditor's office, one day; Ben D. McGowan, messenger, one day.

A. H. Clifford, released with reprimand, while charges against Charles A. Stephens, clerk and chief boarding officer, and against E. W. Maslin, special deputy naval officer, were not found proven.

The only force in the future permitted to be assigned duty at the sub-port of Oakland, from orders of the Treasury Department, is a deputy collector and one laborer. But this means practically no change, as Collector Stratton has in the past reduced the staff in the Oakland office and from time to time assigned extra men when the press of business demanded it.

Judge Lawlor's idea is to have the case proceed as quickly as possible, but he is also anxious to try minor cases which are on his calendar and will take advantage of the time consumed in summoning jurors, and the brief delays for this purpose.

TWO THOUSAND LOTS GIVEN AWAY
IN THE SANTA CRUZ MOUNTAINS

Scene near Ben Lomond, where Osgood is giving away 2000 lots. Osgood the Druggist is making an absolutely bona fide offer of a 25-foot lot with every 50c purchase. Will bear the closest investigation.

Osgood, the druggist, is actually giving away a building lot at Ben Lomond, in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains, exactly as he is advertising. He gives with every 50c purchase a 25x100 foot lot, and the total and only expense in connection with the proposition is the necessity of paying $7.50 for the expense of doing the surveying and getting out the deed.

The title to the property is perfectly clear and it is desirable in every respect, and the only object in giving it away is to bring settlers to the district.

At Ben Lomond almost the entire town is built on one side of the river, while on the opposite there is just as fine timber, and just as much water, but no people. Distance owners of this property figure that by giving away 2500 lots they can assure the erection of four or five hundred cottages, which would mean that the balance of their lots could be sold. In the next two or three years, at big prices.

"My proposition offers our customers a splendid opportunity to get in on the ground floor of a pioneering endeavor," said Fred Osgood this morning.

Politicians and editors from all parts of the state began arriving early. Covers will be placed for 500. A number of women will attend.

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weakness, deals with inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head! Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cures liver ills.

LONG HOURS FOR WOMEN WORKERS

Government Studies Conditions of Fruit Packers in California

Average Wage in Factories for Girls Is $5 to $9 Per Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—An investigation of the hours and earnings of wage-earning women in California furnishes the subject of a bulletin just issued by the Bureau of Labor, Department of Commerce and Labor. The industries studied are fruit and vegetable canning; the manufacture of candy, biscuits, etc.; cigars and cigarettes; paper boxes, and shirts, overalls, etc. These are industries employing large numbers of women and girls. Except in the case of canning, the factories were in San Francisco and Oakland. Thirty-four establishments, employing 5552 women, were studied, and 1569 women furnished personal data. Of the total women employed in the five industries there were under 15 years of age, 220. The figures relate to the year ending April 30, 1911.

WOMEN IN CANNERIES.
The report covers nine canneries, employing 5111 persons, two-thirds of whom were women. From 604 of these women individual information was secured. Few workers were found under 15 years of age and practically none under 12.

In the canning industry the season is short and employment fluctuates violently within its limits. Hours are more irregular than in any other industry. A working week may be made up of 10, 8, 7 and 15-hour days, or it may be a steady drive of from 12 to 15 hours a day for seven days, for there is no law against Sunday work. In the nine canneries studied the average season in the city was 15.4 weeks and in the country 14.2 weeks.

The average hours of work per week for the city cannery women were 57.8 and for those in the country canneries 63.8. These averages include some strikingly long hours in individual cases. The longest cases reported their maximum daily hours as in one case 12, in four cases 13 or 14, in two cases 15, in one case 16, and in one case 18. In three cases employers gave their average weekly hours as 60 or over, while those reporting extremely long hours as reported by themselves, in only one case fell as low as 70, and ran up from that to 96. Over one-half of the individual workers questioned had had maximum weeks of 72 hours or over, the hours running up in some cases to 98 a week.

LONG HOUR DRIVES.
As the California canneries contend that the long-hour drives are absolutely necessary because of the high perishability of the fruit, it is extremely interesting to note, says the government bulletin, that a number of those reporting extremely long hours both in the average and maximum weeks are labelers and stampers, who have to do with the product after it is canned, hermetically sealed, cooked, and no longer perishable.

The acceptance of these hours by the workers is due in part to the piecework system. The employers usually give preference in position and material to those workers who will keep on until a drive is over. Some instances were found in which the factory had simply been locked into the factory until the allotted work was finished.

On the whole, working conditions in the California canneries, apart from the matter of hours, were not bad. Ventilation was good, cases fair. There was no machinery to set a pace for the women studied, but nevertheless they worked with a degree of haste which, coupled with the long hours, involved a serious nervous strain.

The labor force in these canneries was predominantly foreign, 71 per cent of the women studied being either Italian or Portuguese, while Americans formed only 10 per cent. One-fifth were over 45 years of age and 13 per cent were under 16. About one-half were married and 12 per cent were widowed.

CANDY AND BISCUIT FACTORIES.
As compared with canning, the other industries studied present far fewer irregularities. The candy and biscuit factories, however, showed marked variations. In 10 establishments in San Francisco and Oakland the average weekly hours varied from 64 to 78. For the individual workers a wide range of hours was found. Of 285 women working overtime in the candy and biscuit factories visited only 49 per cent reported maximum weeks of from 66 to 80 hours.

The average weekly earnings ranged from $4.62 for women under 16 years of age to $7.97 for those 25 to 44 years of age. The average duration of employment for the year was 45.6 weeks.

PAPER-BOX FACTORIES.
In paper-box factories the busy season was shorter and the hours less extreme than in the candy-making establishments. In the seven factories covered the busy season lasted from 4 to 17 weeks and the weekly hours varied from 60 to 72. Only 8 per cent of the women were under 16 years.

The weekly earnings during the normal season ranged from an average of $4.88 for those under 16 to $7.87 for the women of 25 to 44 years. The 155 women interviewed reported an average of 44.9 weeks' employment.

OVERALL FACTORIES.
The factories engaged in the manufacture of shirts, overalls, etc., showed a longer duration of employment and less overtime than any of the other industries considered. Only two of the six factories studied reported rush seasons, lasting 17 and 18 weeks, with average of 57 to 60 hours per week. Of the individual women questioned 15 per cent had worked overtime during the year for an average of 8.8 weeks, the average hours being 57.3.

The study of cigar and cigarette making was limited to two establishments in San Francisco, employing 811 persons, of whom 55.7 per cent were

NEW YORK SOCIETY SNUBS THE ASTORS MILLIONAIRE AND WIFE SAIL ABROAD

JOHN JACOB ASTOR and his wife, who have gone abroad to escape New York society snubs.

Colonel and Youthful Bride to Cruise Up the Nile for a Month

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Among the passengers to sail for Europe today to pass the winter were John Jacob Astor and his seventeen-year-old bride. Their departure was unexpected as the social season of New York is at its height. However, gossip has whispered ever so softly that for a number of weeks New York society has deliberately snubbed the youthful bride and millionaire. It is further hinted that because of the snubs that Mrs. Astor has decided to remain away from New York society until it sufficiently recovers to acknowledge her place.

Astor has shown society that he intends to deprive the inner circle of Gotham's select of his company and that of his wife until there is less frigidity manifested toward them in the social atmosphere. It is for this reason that the colonel withdrew the invitations to the annual dinner dance at his New York mansion, it is whispered. For years this dinner dance has been the stellar event of the social season, and invitations to it were eagerly sought by those who are complements aware that they are members of the ultra "400."

Colonel Astor makes no secret of the fact that he is out of patience with New York society. He said warmly in reply to a reporter's question: "My boy, don't ask me what I think of New York society, because it would pain me to tell you my exact feelings. I don't care what New York society is doing, what it has done or what it is going to do. I am thoroughly disgusted with it. I am going to Egypt."

Colonel and Mrs. Astor will cruise up the Nile as far as the second cataract on a Nile boat which has been chartered for a month. They expect to reach New York some time in April.

TO DEDICATE SCHOOL BUILDING

Prominent Educators to Take Part in Ceremonies at Miss Horton's.

Dedication ceremonies of Miss Sarah W. Horton's school will be held tomorrow afternoon in the building recently completed at Palm avenue and Perkins street. An elaborate program will be given. University professors prominent educators of the State and the pupils will take part.

Miss Horton's School, which is one of the oldest private preparatory schools in Oakland, was established twenty-eight years ago by Miss Horton, in a cottage in Adeline street. When the quarters became too small to accommodate the growing institution, the school was moved to Twelfth and Filbert streets, where it thrived for more than twenty years.

SPLENDID STRUCTURE.

Recently, Miss Horton, who is one of the best known woman educators on the coast, supervised the building of the new school at Palm avenue and Perkins street. It required eight months to complete the structure, which now is one of the handsomest of its kind in the bay cities. Its purpose is devoted to preparing students for high schools and the universities. Its standing is of the highest character and many prominent Oaklanders have received their elementary training through Miss Horton. In all the years of her career she has educated herself to hundreds of pupils and the ceremonies tomorrow will be largely attended by both old and young.

The new building is modern in every particular and is located on spacious grounds in one of the exclusive sections of the city. A large assembly hall is a feature of the building, which contains fifteen class rooms. When the school opened last Monday it had a registration of 100 pupils, showing a steady growth over past years.

women and girls. Information was obtained from 61 women, who reported an average of 44.9 weeks' employment during the year covered. Work was steady, there being practically no rush season, and hours averaged 57.3. The average weekly earnings ranged from $4.62 for the 27 found under 16 to $7.97 for the 27 found under 24 years of age.

WESTERN PACIFIC ANNOUNCES RATES

Tourists to Be Offered Every Opportunity to Visit California and West.

From the ticket office of the Western Pacific railway at 1328 Broadway, Oakland, comes the announcement that low colonist fares from all points east to Oakland and other California cities and towns, will be in effect for 45 days, from March 1 to April 15.

The through service of the Western Pacific to the coast, from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, and other eastern cities, which includes Pullman tourist sleeping cars to Oakland without change, also chair cars and electric lighted, all-steel coaches, will be at the disposal of parties taking advantage of these rates. People in California who want to bring their friends and relatives from the east, over the new "Scenic Line," through Denver and Salt Lake City, can secure full information and make all arrangements through the Western Pacific office in Oakland.

During this period the rates will be, from New York $50, Chicago $33, St. Louis $32, Memphis $32, Missouri river points, including Omaha, Council Bluffs and Kansas City, $25; New Orleans $32, Denver and other Colorado points, $25; and proportionately low rates from all other eastern points.

Thousands of easterners take advantage of these low rates each year, and from the great number of inquiries already received by the Western Pacific, it is predicted that west-bound travel during this period will be exceptionally heavy.

Thirteen society women of Oakland, Piedmont and way stations registered as voters of Alameda county this morning. They went to the office of County Clerk John Cook in automobiles and stormed the registration room in a body. When the ceremony was all over County Clerk Cook refused to allow the ages to be made public, and when asked to indicate who their husbands were, he said, with a twinkle in his eye:

"Forget it, boys, their husbands amount to nothing in these piping times of suffrage."

The women who affixed their names to the Great Register were Louisa Louisa, Mrs. Helen Hall, Josephine Chabot Dieckman, Florence Brackett Abbott, Catherine Chabot Dunn, Clara Chabot Boqueron, Cora Bliss Jackson, Myra Requa Long, Alice Clay Stephenson, Myra Prather Miller, Mary Barlow Alexander, Laura Crellin Fitzgerald and Jane Florence Crellin.

The aggregate number of years represented by the ages of the ladies was about 415. A majority of the women registered as Republicans. There was not a Socialist among them.

Chief Deputy County Clerk Johnston yesterday afternoon registered seventy-six men and women who are inmates of the Masonic Home at Decoto. Many of the residents are extremely old, but without an exception they declared their intention of voting at the next election, if they retained their present good health.

"The cheaper he can get it done, the more money there will be left over out of the six per cent allowed on the contract price for the job. This merely establishes a sweat-shop plan of doing business by which the men will be paid the least possible on each job. Nothing in the ordinance restricts the supervising architect as to the price to be paid. For that reason you could not have established a better plan by which to get shabby work for your money."

"In addition to this the ordinance does not restrict the supervising architect in any way as to where he shall seek his architects to do all this work. If he wishes he can let it out entirely to eastern architects."

"It is stated that the office to be created by this ordinance is to be filled by the appointment of Mr. Donovan. Mr. Donovan comes from the east, and in this regard might be expected to fall possibly to see that local men are very able to do the work."

"I may be allowed to remark here that the plans accepted for the new City Hall did not comply with the terms of the competition at which they were obtained. I don't wish to find fault but—"

MAYOR INTERRUPTS.
"The competition was fair in every way," interrupted Mayor Mott. "The committee of architects who acted as judges threw out two sets of plans from large reputable firms because of slight technical failures to comply with the conditions."

"The plans called for a building to cost $1,000,000, and the building to be put up will cost $1,300,000," responded Baker.

"The original plans were within the cost specified," said Mayor Mott. "The alterations which entailed additional cost were made after the plans had been accepted and approved. You, yourself, approved of the change."

"That's right," returned Baker. "And as I said, I do not wish to find fault. That matter is a dead horse now anyway."

"But what I do wish to point out is that you are putting all this work into the hands of a stranger to Oakland, a man from the East, who is not—"

"Mr. Donovan is a citizen of Oakland and a voter in the State of California," interrupted Commissioner of Public Works Anderson.

"He must have become a citizen pretty recently," went on Baker. "We are to spend about $2,000,000 in building twenty-one school houses. I figure the gross compensation would amount to about $125,000 for this in architects' fees. Mr. Donovan would be in a position under this ordinance to farm out all this work to his own advantage or to his friends in the East. I don't say he is going to graft, but I say that if he wanted to, this is the best possible way to give the opportunity."

NOT PERSONAL MATTER.
"This is not a personal matter in any way. I would object if it were the intention to appoint a local man. But this ordinance presents two salient faults. It opens the door to discrimination against local men. It opens the way to getting poor, cheap workmanship. If it goes through every one of you will be sorry for it. Every man and woman in the city of Oakland will be sorry for it. It will mean that the competence and ability of local men will be questioned, and that we will get poor return for our money in a field where we badly need good work and a good return."

Commissioner Harry Anderson explained his reasons for moving the passage of the ordinance. He said:

"The charter provides that the board of education shall make requisition upon the Commissioner of Public Works for plans and specifications for its school houses. The board shall present the plans to the board of education, and the board of education shall select the architect to prepare plans for 21 school buildings and the municipal auditorium, and to supervise the erection of these. The expenses of the office, including the remuneration of the supervising architect and that for architects employed under his direction, is to come out of the six per cent of the contract price on all the construction work."

The plan was drawn by Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. Anderson and approved by the council and the board of education. J. J. Donovan, supervising architect on the new City Hall, is to be appointed to the position.

When the ordinance came up for passage to print this morning before the council Joseph E. Baker asked the privilege of addressing the council. Baker outlined several objections to the method suggested, declaring that it would create an "architectural sweat shop bureau," as the supervising architect, in having the plan for buildings drawn, would get it done as cheaply as possible in order that the remainder from the six per cent fee, which would be left for him, might be greater. Baker also declared that the plan would promote poor workmanship and jobbery.

ENDORSED BY INSTITUTE.
It was pointed out that the plan was endorsed by the American Institute of Architecture, and that Donovan intended going for the architecture work under his supervision in accordance with the schedule formulated by the Institute of Architecture. Baker declared that the intentions of one man were not sufficient protection for the city.

"To meet this objection, and on the advice of City Attorney Ben F. Woolner, the ordinance was amended by the addition of a clause establishing the rates to be paid by the supervising architect to other architects employed by him, the rates to be absolutely in accordance with the schedule for such work as established by the American Institute of Architecture."

AMENDMENT.
The amendment reads as follows: "All employments made by said supervising architect shall be in accordance with the schedule of the American Institute of Architecture."

With this amendment the ordinance was given its second reading and passed to print. It will come up for final passage next week. The motion to pass to print was carried unanimously by the council on the motion of Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. Anderson, the father of the plan.

BAKER'S STATEMENT.
In presenting his objections to the ordinance before the council, Mr. Baker read from the proposed bill the sections to which he took exception. He said:

"I appear here not as the representative of any newspaper or any architect, but as a private citizen and taxpayer in the interests of the city. By the terms of this ordinance which I have just read to you the compensation for architects to be employed by the city is to be made by private agreement between the supervising architect and the men employed."

"The cheaper he can get it done, the more money there will be left over out of the six per cent allowed on the contract price for the job. This merely establishes a sweat-shop plan of doing business by which the men will be paid the least possible on each job. ## ORDINANCE CREATING ARCHITECT AMENDED

Rates to Be Paid by Supervising Builder Fixed by the City Council

To meet at least in part the objections raised by J. E. Baker the city council this morning amended the ordinance creating the office of city supervising architect before passing the instrument to print. Baker appeared as a private citizen in protest against certain provisions of the ordinance which he believed would work to the detriment of the city in producing poor workmanship on the public buildings about to be constructed.

The ordinance as passed to print, creates the office of supervising architect of the city, and gives him full charge of a bureau of architecture to prepare plans for 21 school buildings and the municipal auditorium, and to supervise the erection of these. The expenses of the office, including the remuneration of the supervising architect and that for architects employed under his direction, is to come out of the six per cent of the contract price on all the construction work.

The plan was drawn by Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. Anderson and approved by the council and the board of education. J. J. Donovan, supervising architect on the new City Hall, is to be appointed to the position.

When the ordinance came up for passage to print this morning before the council Joseph E. Baker asked the privilege of addressing the council. # PRISONERS CAUSING WORRY

What Italy Should Do With Captured Doctors Is a Problem

Paris and Vienna Express
Amazement at Action of Italians

ROME, Jan. 25.—The Franco-Italian incident, brought about by the seizure of Turkish doctors and nurses from the French steamer Manoubia by Italian warships, is practically closed. The only question being discussed is that of finding a method by which the Turkish prisoners can be released or delivered to the French authorities.

AMAZEMENT EXPRESSED.
PARIS, Jan. 25.—Newspapers here express amazement that the Italian government does not release the Turkish doctors and Red Cross society nurses taken from the French steamer Manoubia during her voyage from Marseilles to Tunis. The Turks are now held at Cagliari in Sardinia. The handing over of the Turks to the French is the only possible solution of the difficulty, it is pointed out. Camille Barrere, the French Ambassador to Italy, and the Marquis di San Giuliano, the Italian Foreign Minister, had another conference in Rome this morning, the result of which has not been announced.

VIENNA INDIGNANT.
VIENNA, Jan. 25.—The action of an Italian warship in stopping the Austrian-Lloyd liner Bregenz has given fresh impetus to the anti-Italian campaign here. The press continues to make emphatic protests regarding the incident, although the owners of the Bregenz have stated that they consider the matter of no importance. The suggestion is made here that Italy cede her East African possessions to Turkey in compensation for the loss of Tripoli. Some significance is attached to the fact that this suggestion is forthcoming just at the time of the visit of the German Foreign Minister, Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, to the German foreign secretary.

TO STRENGTHEN NAVY.
PARIS, Jan. 25.—The Cabinet has decided to ask the Chamber of Deputies to discuss the French naval program at an early date. Great interest is manifested not only in Paris, but throughout France in the nature of proposals which will be placed before the deputies by Theophile Delcasse, Minister of Marine, who on November 14, during a speech in the Chamber, declared that the battleships Jean Bart and Courbet, which displace 23,500 tons each, were the forerunners of a new and stronger fleet. The ministerial declaration made by the new cabinet on January 19 also hinted that the strengthening of the navy would receive special attention.

Italian Warship and Fort Fight Duel

PERIM, Jan. 25.—One of the Italian warships cruising in the Red Sea in search of vessels conveying contraband of Turkish troops, today rescued the bombardment of Sheikh Said, a small fort between Mocha and Bab-el-Mandeb. The Turks replied from three batteries. No casualties are reported on the Italian side.

BOURBON TARIFF BILL IS REPORTED

The Iron and Steel Industry Is Reported to Be Able to Meet Competition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Democratic iron and steel tariff revision bill was favorably reported to the House today by Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee. The Republican members of the committee were given the right to file an adverse report. The committee had adopted the bill by a strict party vote.

"A survey of the iron and steel industry," says the majority report filed with the committee, shows convincingly that it has reached a position of such strength and independence that the industry does not need the helping hand of the government to stand to competition with foreign countries. "The committee feels warranted in recommending that the duties be placed upon a distinctly revenue basis."

The report declares that the rates should be made low enough to permit potential competition from imports for the sake of national and proper regulation of Democratic prices, and concludes: "It is believed that the rates provided for in this bill are competitive, and, if enacted, would effect a substantial economy to the people greatly disproportionate in its advantages to the small apparent loss of revenue."

Careless About Ap- pendicitis in Oakland

Many Oakland people have stomach or bowel trouble which is likely to turn into appendicitis. If you have constipation, sour stomach or gas on the stomach, try simple backhanded bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-Lin, the new German appendicitis remedy. What's the drug store, Tenth and Washington streets, states that a SINGLE DOSE of this simple remedy relieves bowel or stomach trouble almost INSTANTLY.

CARDINAL FARLEY WELCOMED SOLEMN CEREMONY OBSERVED

CARDINAL JOHN FARLEY, whose elevation to the Cardinalate was formally celebrated today in New York.

Elevation to Cardinalate of Catholic Church Is Celebrated

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Cardinal John Farley's elevation to the Cardinalate of the Roman Catholic church was formally celebrated at St. Patrick's Cathedral today in the presence of Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, Archbishop Prendergast of Philadelphia and an impressive attendance of monsignors, priests and bishops. After solemn pontifical mass a sermon was preached by Auxiliary Bishop Thomas F. Cusack, followed by addresses of welcome to the cardinal by clergy and laity, to which the cardinal responded. The ceremony marks the close of festivities which began with the cardinal's arrival from Rome.

TOURIST STEAMER CRASHES INTO CRUISER COLORADO Liner Cleveland With Dead Pilot on Bridge Meets Mishap in Honolulu Harbor

HONOLULU, Jan. 25.—With her pilot lying dead on the bridge, the victim of a sudden attack of heart failure, and with no guiding hand at the wheel, the giant Hamburg-American liner Cleveland, carrying five hundred round-the-world tourists, swerved from her course in the harbor after arriving from the Orient yesterday and veering about for several minutes like a staggering monster, rammed the United States cruiser Colorado, lying at anchor.

Terror-stricken, the passengers, among who were many persons from San Francisco and the Pacific Coast, rushed to the decks in hordes. Frightened cries added to the confused din, and for a moment the ship's officers, intent on putting down the panic, were unable to account for the inexplicable behavior of the liner.

PILOT IS FOUND DEAD.
Finally a quartermaster rushed to the bridge and stumbled over the lifeless body of Milton P. Sanders, a harbor pilot, who had taken the wheel of the Cleveland entering the port. Grasping the wheel, the quartermaster signaled the engineers to reverse the propellers. There was still a great din aboard both vessels as the liner backed away from the cruiser and the anchor was dropped.

It was not until this was done that anything like order was restored aboard the liner, the great number of women passengers added greatly to the excitement by their hysterical shrieks.

HIT NEAR CAPTAIN'S CABIN.
The Cleveland suffered practically no damage, but the Colorado was badly crushed and one gun was ruined. Had the liner struck a few feet nearer amidships her bow would have crashed into the cabin of Captain William A. Gill, who was seated at his desk at the time of the collision. One of the cruiser's propellers was also damaged.

The Cleveland arrived from China and Japan and is to remain twenty-four hours. None of her passengers, the majority of whom are Americans, suffered any injuries.

Although the excitement aboard both vessels was intense at the time of the collision, the discipline among the crews of both was faultless. Bluejackets and the men aboard the Cleveland stood by as soon as the vessels met, and they responded with dispatch to the orders that were roared above the din of the terrified passengers.

FIFTH ACCIDENT OF CRUISER.
It was the fifth time that the Colorado had figured in an accident since it was launched eight years ago, and she is known in the navy as a "hoodoo ship."

In June, 1908, the cruiser ran ashore in the fog in Juan de Fuca straits, and in August of the same year it ran on the rocks in Puget Sound. In June of the previous year an eight-inch gun burst, but no one was badly hurt. Two men were scalded on the cruiser by the bursting of a steam pipe when it was speeding from San Francisco to Honolulu in September, 1909.

The liner Cleveland sailed from New York last October with 500 globe-trotters on a cruise de luxe around the world. Thirty-seven states and territories, including Alaska, and 107 cities were represented in the ship's company. Twenty ports were visited in the cruise of the Cleveland, which is the largest ship that has encircled the globe. In all, 22,612 miles will have been covered when the liner reaches San Francisco, where it is due to arrive on February 1.

CALIFORNIANS ON BOARD.
The following are the passengers from California on board the steamship Cleveland, returning home from a world cruise: San Francisco—Miss Fannie S. Conings, Miss E. Cowperthwaite, Miss Margaret Connors, Dr. R. Dean, J. W. Dean, Mrs. S. A. Emerson, Miss B. M. Moly, Mrs. Annie Leadbetter, Master P. Leadbetter, L. E. W. Erida, Mrs. J. S. Spear, J. D. FROM HANDS OF MEN THEY SENT TO PRISON.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—The novelty of public prosecutors being served lunch by the "trusties" of Folsom prison, some of whom probably had been prosecuted, convicted and sent behind prison walls by the very men who they were serving, was witnessed today when the members of the District Attorneys' Association of California accepted the invitation of Warden Reilly and Director Sontag.

The prison band gave a concert for the benefit of the visitors, after which the lawyers made an inspection of methods in vogue at the prison. The convention will close with a theater party tonight.

RESERVATIONS FOR BIRDS CREATED

President Taft Provides Three
New Refuges for Little Feathered Folks.

Eight of Total of Fifty-five Established to Date, Are in Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Three new national bird reservations, two in Alaska and a third in Nebraska, have been created by President Taft and placed under the Department of Agriculture.

On Forrester Island, one of the Alaskan reservations, the rhinoceros auklet breeds. The island contains one of the most extensive bird collections in South-eastern Alaska.

"The Nebraska reservation is in the heart of the prairie chicken country and furnishes the only refuge which has been established for this fast disappearing game bird," said Dr. Henshaw, head of the biological survey, today. It makes a total of fifty-five bird reservations established to date, eight of them in Alaska.

DR. DAVID BARROWS TALKS ON MEXICO

Gives Vivid Word Picture of Southern Republic After Revolution.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 25.—Offsetting the press story of the trouble in the republic of Mexico, Dr. David P. Barrows, head of the political science department of the University of California, presented a promising picture of future peace and prosperity in Mexico in the course of his lecture last night before the University club. Dr. Barrows said that many of the press dispatches were grossly overdrawn and stated that Mexico was tranquil save for the recent trouble with the bandit leader Zepato.

Dr. Barrows made an extended trip through Mexico last summer and made a second trip since that time. He expresses the opinion that Madero, whom he calls Mad-e-ro instead of the quite prevalent California pronunciation of Mad-e-ro, is a sincere reformer, desiring only the best for his country instead of working for his private advancement.

One of the most interesting things the lecturer told was that Madero was the Mexican reformer, attended the University of California, with his brother, for a year in 1892, the two young men taking up a course of study in agriculture. During a recent interview with Madero the leader's earnest, sober face was illuminated with a smile when he spoke of the University of California days and he inquired affectionately regarding Professor Hillyard.

Madero is not an imposing figure. He is small, with a stubby beard, and talks with a nervous, fidgety manner, though looking one straight in the eye and speaking in a straightforward manner. His earnestness impresses, despite his nervous manner.

Dr. Barrows spoke at length of the election he witnessed in one of the Mexican states to elect a governor. One of the candidates was a blue-blooded don who was former governor and who had apparently given an honest and able administration, returning his salary to the state for public improvements. The other candidate was from the industrial ranks, a former carpenter, who had lived in exile for a time in America, and later engaged in the undertaking business.

During the recent war time the undertaker, suspected of revolutionary plotting, was ordered into custody. When the soldiers appeared at the undertaking establishment the undertaker lay dead in his coffin. The coffin was carried to the cemetery and from the burial ground the undertaker climbed out of his coffin and escaped. The election was an extremely simple matter. A list of voters was prepared, and an advance election board was picked on the day of election and all was ready. The voter gave his name and if it was found on the list he was allowed to vote. He told in a loud voice who he wanted to vote for and on the ballot wrote the name of the candidate and his own name. The ballot was laid on a table and a rock placed on it and other balls to keep the wind from blowing the ballots away. There was no trouble, no troops or state police to intimidate voters, no heated arguments, no ballot boxes. The election seemed as fair and square as it was simple and open. The right of ballot is extended to all save beggars, vagrants and confirmed drunkards. Fools have the right to vote unless they are hard drinkers. There is in some of the states a required qualification that the voter must be able to read and write but this qualification is not generally in effect. If enforced it would disqualify many now voting.

Dr. Barrows told of his first effort to talk with Madero. He went to a famous Mexican university lecturer, Dr. Madero and Reyes held their historic conference at which Reyes broke away from Madero and his promise of support, and set up for himself, shortly before he took the field in his final and disastrous effort to make himself president of the republic. It was not a favorable time for an American university lecturer to interview the first man in Mexico but Dr. Barrows saw some of the outer details of the memorable conference. He saw and heard bits of the excited talk and earnest statements as Reyes and his followers talked with Madero and his advisors. The lecturer gave an interesting picture of General Reyes, tall, well-favored soldierly in bearing, with the easy poise of a man of splendid physique and notable attainment.

Speaking of De la Barra's ministry of ten members, Dr. Barrows said that eight of the ten spoke English fluently and that several of them were educated in the United States. He believed that Mexico would go forward and develop now more rapidly than ever. He told of the proposal of Madero and his government to cut up the vast haciendas into small holdings for the farmers and others of the poorer classes. The lecturer declared that the providing of employment and of opportunities to get ahead for poor people was a vast but urgent matter. In no other country that the doctor has ever visited has he seen so many

FEAR MADE HER
WED, SAYS WIFE

Now Mrs. Clara Mattison
Wants Her Marriage to Mechanic Annulled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The threat of a prison sentence forced Clara Mattison to wed M. E. Mattison, a mechanic, on December 4, last, according to the wife's allegations made today in a suit for an annulment of the marriage. The young woman declares that she rejected Mattison's attentions until he told her that he knew of an offense for which, if he made it public, she could be sent to San Quentin. Fearing the harshness of a prison, and dreading the ordeal of publicity, she declares she consented to wed him, but left him immediately after the marriage. She maintains that she has learned since that she had not committed any offense against the law.

TO DELIVER LECTURE ON "RAMBLES IN ITALY"

"Rambles in Italian Cities" will be the theme of an illustrated address to be delivered tomorrow evening by Rev. William C. Poole, formerly assistant pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city and now head of the Wesleyan Methodist Episcopal church of San Francisco in the parlors of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Fourteenth and Clay streets. The church will be open to the public. The silver offering will be presented to the Home Missionary Society.

beggar and so much dire poverty as the poorer classes in Mexico. Discussing the strikes in the southern republic, the lecturer told of a parade of 5000 men in Mexico city. He was told that in one strike for shorter hours the men wanted their hours reduced from 16 to 14 hours. The men claimed that they went to work at 5:30 in the morning and worked until 8:30 at night.

Dr. Barrows was present at the celebration of the revolutionaries over the fall of Juarez and he gave bits of sidelights on the Oroscos brothers, Madero, Blanco, Garibaldi and the other revolutionary leaders engaged in besieging the city. The Oroscos brothers, both generals, had been the American suit between them. One wore the coat and the other the trousers. There was a bunch of Sierra Madre Indians with the revolutionaries who were armed with bows and arrows prior to the fall of Juarez. After the city was captured they were equipped with Winchester rifles of model 73, of which they were immoderately proud. The fact that none of the Indians were killed and none wounded in the fighting about Juarez induced the doctor to believe that they had formed a rear guard which kept considerably to the rear during the fighting.

Dr. Barrows in his trip this winter through Mexico noticed a considerable improvement in the general peace situation over conditions of last summer. Revolutionary soldiers had taken the place of ruralists in preserving peace on the lines of travel, etc. The political clubs, freeborn press, and their proclamations, which Diaz rigidly suppressed, flourish now in every city and town. The lecturer closed with the statement that he considered Mexico a land of great promise and of great wealth, with a wonderful future before it.

MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE REVEALED IN SECRET SUIT

Remarkable Story Told by Woman Who Was Wife for Few Hours

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—A marriage of convenience was revealed in a sensational annulment suit filed secretly in the Superior Court this morning which carefully concealed the names of some of the principal actors, and endeavors as well as possible, even to hide the active participant. The title of the case is G. Murphy against D. Murphy, and it is understood that the defendant, who is the man in the case, is a wealthy contractor, prominently known in this city. The facts revealed in the complaint are sensational in the extreme.

According to the allegations of the wife, she has known her husband for a considerable time. She was married to him only on December 21 last, separating from him immediately after the ceremony was performed.

It developed, however, that during his period of single blessedness and for two years before the marriage he had been paying attention to a married woman. On December 18, according to the complaint, the husband of this woman, whose name Mrs. Murphy says she does not know, returned, surprised the couple in their love-making and demanded of Murphy that he (Murphy) must marry the wife. If he (Murphy) would not do so, the irate spouse declared that he would bring suit for enormous damages against him and would air the entire scandal in the court.

TELS WIFE TO BE.
It was then that Murphy bethought him of the scheme and went to his present wife, who was then a single woman. Informed her of his difficulty.

He explained that he had gone to the man whose home he had invaded, had explained to the husband he could not marry the latter's wife as he was already married to a benevolent and realizing the uselessness, the man told him, he said, that he was going to forgive his wife and that they would make up again and that there would be no civil suit for damages.

When she learned this Mrs. Murphy declared she was heartbroken, and realized that she had been nothing but a pawn in the hands of her husband, in whose company she had been but a few hours, and decided to sue for annulment, charging fraud and deceit in connection with the ceremony.

The action is without exception the most remarkable that has ever been filed in this city and a sensation is expected when it comes up for trial.

New England's Changing Population.

A striking fact has been developed by the great mill strike at Lawrence, Massachusetts, and that is the predominance of people of the Latin races in this old New England factory town. The leader of the strikers is an Italian, and Italians, Belgians and French Canadians constitute the great body of the mill hands. Apparently only a few Americans and Irish are employed in the factories of Lawrence. There are some Poles and Armenians, but they did not strike and were driven from their looms by the Italians, who constitute the most violent element among the strikers.

What is true of Lawrence is true of nearly all the New England factory towns. The native race has given way to foreigners of an entirely different breed. The Latin and the Slav have taken the places once occupied by the descendants of the Puritans. Even the farm lands are passing into the hands of Poles and Italians, and the Catholic cross is more frequently seen on church edifices than the symbols of Protestantism. The creed of Calvin and the posterity of the Pilgrims are passing away, and the children of France and Italy and the Roman confessional are possessing their heritage.

The French Canadians are devout Catholics, and the Italians hardly less so. The Poles and the Slavs from the Adriatic provinces of Austria are loyal to the ancient church. Of all the foreigners who are invading New England the Armenians alone do not render spiritual obedience to the Church of Rome. In such towns as Holyoke and Chicopee, in Western Massachusetts, foreigners of the Latin and Slavic races predominate and the Polish farmer is a familiar figure in the neighboring country side. Boston is becoming Irish and Catholic and the interior is becoming Slav and Latin Catholic. It is a curious transformation—a reversal of form, to use a racing phrase. The Irish, the Latins and the Slavs multiply rapidly, while the pioneer inhabitants rear small families or none at all. There is a constant movement of the more virile of the old stock to the great cities and to the West, while there is a steady influx from French Canada and the South of Europe.

In other words, the population of New England is rapidly changing in race and character. The distinctive or Yankee flavor of New England citizenship is disappearing, and is being succeeded by something entirely alien to it.

The officers of the American navy are still true to the traditions of the service. Not long ago Commander Bertolotto of the gunboat Yorktown, stationed at Guayaquil for the protection of American citizens residing in Ecuador, died of yellow fever, leaving the vessel without a commanding officer. When the news reached Washington, Commander Thomas Washington volunteered to take command of the infected ship and was immediately ordered to do so. He is now on his way to a post of duty where the opportunity for distinction is remote and the peril disproportionately large. But the officers of the American navy are of a fine type, and their devotion to duty is a proverb.

Colonel Roosevelt's Latest Complaint.

Colonel Roosevelt complains that the newspapers will not let him alone. It is a novel complaint for the Colonel to make. No man in American public life has ever courted newspaper notoriety so artfully and assiduously as he. No other man has ever conducted himself in such a manner as to continually excite speculation and public curiosity.

While the Colonel is complaining that the newspapers will not let him alone, he is playing to the galleries and seeking a place on the billboards. A short, plain, straightforward statement of his attitude and political intentions would resolve at once the questions and doubts which surround him and give a morbid interest to what he says. He keeps stirring the political pot, but keeps everybody guessing as to what he intends to do. He envelopes himself in the kind of mystery that invests a man who goes about wearing a mask and a red cloak.

And it is quite evident that the Colonel enjoys the attention the newspapers pay him. He would be grieved indeed if they neglected him and did not note his every action and word. He is no shrinking, modest violet. It pleases him to be seen and heard, to hold the center of the stage and stand in the limelight. His complaint is a Pickwickian expression of satisfaction that he is successfully playing at one time the roles of Jack Cade and the Sphinx.

Colonel Roosevelt vigorously assails the arbitration treaties, the Sherman anti-trust law and the judiciary, but he refuses to say a word about the tariff, the parcels post, the granting of subsidies to American shipping or rebating the tolls on American ships passing through the Panama canal. While the reciprocity agreement with Canada was pending he gave no expression of opinion on that measure, but he was ready enough to attack the arbitration treaties. His militant utterances on some public questions, coupled with his studied reticence with regard to others, fill people with expectancy.

In no instance has he given any expression of approval of anything that President Taft has done, but he has criticized the enforcement of the anti-trust law and denounced the arbitration treaties. Meanwhile his admirers are booming him for President, and he declines to say whether or not he is a candidate. Naturally he is an object of popular interest and receives a good deal of attention from the press. But the fault is not with the newspapers. The Colonel is himself responsible for the notoriety he is receiving.

There is some caviling at the report of the Senate committee that investigated the election of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin. The committee reports that the charge of bribery was not proved. It might have added that the evidence failed to show that any law was broken by Stephenson and his campaign managers. Stephenson spent $107,000 in his campaign for re-election, but it was not shown that any money was expended illegally. The election was held in accordance with a free-for-all primary law which places no restriction on the amount of money a candidate may spend. Some people seem to think the committee should have reported in favor of unseating Stephenson on the ground that he spent too much money, but as the money was spent lawfully and nobody was corrupted (so far as the testimony shows) the committee could not have reported otherwise than it did. It is to be noted in this connection also that La Follette, who made the charge against his colleague, is the father of the Wisconsin primary law. Had not Stephenson broken with him politically La Follette would have had no fault to find with the amount of money he spent.

According to the New York dispatches, the turkey trot has been introduced in Puccini's opera, "The Girl of the Golden West." play. Jack Rance is the Pacific street ideal of a frontier sheriff, and there is no reason why the grizzly bear, the bunny hug, the Texas Tommy and other favorite dances of the Barbary Coast should not be introduced in an opera that depicts the manners and customs of mining camp life in 1849 about as faithfully as a Pacific street dance hall portrays the ensemble of a Methodist prayer meeting. By all means Caruso should continue to dance the turkey trot while in the company of "Mexican greasers" and "Indian redskins." It does not add to the vulgarity of the piece and does give a spice of real life to a stupid melodrama.

Judge Hart on Capital Punishment.

Hon. E. C. Hart, one of the justices of the Third District Court of Appeals, is emphatic in disapproving the abolition of capital punishment. He says it should never be abolished until there was some assurance that human life can be protected without it. On this subject Judge Hart speaks with authority, for he was a distinguished criminal lawyer prior to taking a seat on the bench. As a nisi prius judge he was noted for the severity of the sentences he imposed upon burglars, highway robbers and shedders of blood. His reason for giving burglars and highway robbers long sentences was that the burglar and the highwayman always had murder in contemplation and frequently do commit murder in their criminal operations. They go armed and prepared to take life. Yet Judge Hart is a man of kind heart and humane instincts. It is his belief, however, that leniency to criminals of a certain type is a grave mistake, inasmuch as it robs the citizen of the protection the law is designed to give him. The judge believes in giving criminals a chance to reform, but his idea is that reformation should begin in prison and that clemency should only be extended when substantial proofs have been given that it is deserved. His reasoning is sound and his conclusions are in accordance with the views of men who have had a practical experience in penology.

All the bay counties should join hands in urging the State Highway Commission to build the so-called wishbone highway around the bay from Oakland and Berkeley to San Francisco via San Jose. The proposed highway will be a convenience to fully one-third the inhabitants of the State, and it can be connected up at various points with the system of roads traversing the great central valleys. The wishbone highway should be completed before the Panama-Pacific exposition opens, and so should a branch through the Livermore valley connecting the road system of Alameda county with the highway system of San Joaquin county.

It is officially announced through the accredited mouthpiece, Al McCabe, that the California jobocracy will continue to support R. M. La Follette as originally planned. Nevertheless some of the pie-biting newspapers are wavering between Battle Bob and Roosevelt. They are beginning to see that the La Follette boom is dead, and would like to climb aboard a more promising band-wagon; but the official orders just issued will probably recall them to their allegiance.

ROBERT BURNS

Sweet in the ear of fame of yore a bard,
With life a lover's, wooed the heart of time;
To him his love alone was meet reward,
Ere fame awoke to find his song sublime.
Within his heart the sheen of nature glowed,
A patriot's fire his manly soul endowed.
And heart and soul found ecstasy in rhyme,
That stirred the heart of time and soul of fame.
To gaudied, with the loves of men, the poet's name.

And Scotland's soul with patriotic cheer
Join festival to celebrate his birth;
The spirit of his song still bovers near,
To lustre friendship and its well-thumbed mirth.
His song was nature's incense of the heart,
With naught to hide because it knew no art—
The song of life, as life is found on earth—
Sweetness in sorrow, evil, developing good—
The only song man sings how'er misund'stood.

J. W. HARPER.

French Population

For a long time France was a decreasing population was at its wits end for a means to stop the steadily falling off in the number of its citizens. The official figures of the census of last year, just made public, show at last an increase during the past five years; not much, to be sure, but enough to insure that there is no longer any danger of France being depopulated during the next century of the steady growth shows that the country districts to the cities which has been disposed of the European republic is confronted with another no less grave, and one that is at present bothering this country.
The census figures show that there has been a steady drift from the country districts to the cities which has grown far more than the increase in population in the whole country would warrant. The youthful French peasant, no doubt, is actuated by the same ideas that influence the youths on the far more profitable American farms and are deserting them to seek their fortunes in the cities.
The same percentage of failures of those from the country who leave to live in the cities no doubt obtains in France as in America. Meanwhile French farms once under cultivation have been neglected and the nation suffers from the shortening of its food supply. We are engaged now in solving the problem of how to keep our boys and girls on the farm, but so far no very promising solution has been found.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

"THE SUPREME BOOK."

(By Rev. James H. N. Williams, pastor College Avenue M. E. Church.)

It would be regarded as a daring thing to pick out any book from any one field of literature, claiming for it supremacy. The position would be challenged at once. Besides, a book considered supreme today might be superseded tomorrow. What then shall be said for the claim that the Bible is the world's supreme book? In what sense is supremacy claimed for it? In this: That in all the range of human experience with its truest joys, its deepest sorrows and its highest hopes, the Bible meets man with satisfactory answers. It tells him whence he came, what he is, where he goes.

It is the Supreme Book because it is inspired of God—inspired in an unique sense in which no other book is inspired. Theories of inspiration there may be with plenty of latitude for radicals and conservatives. But through all the contentions between destructive and constructive critics, the Bible holds on its way, held in the faith of the great body of Christians as God's supremely and uniquely inspired revelation to men.
The history of Christ—detailing his birth, ministry, miracles, crucifixion, burial, resurrection and ascension, is all in the New Testament and linked with the history and prophecy of the Old Testament. So much is this so that the Bible and Christ cannot be separated without destroying the authority of the one and the significance of the other.

The Bible is supreme in that it is man's chiefest ally in the making of character. Its standards of morality are the highest and best the world knows anything about, and are gradually superseding all others. From individuals its influence spreads to communities, ever extending, until from the Bible has come a force that makes civilization progressive and permanent. The greatest of individuals and the highest states of men acknowledge this supreme influence and attribute attainment from this source. All of this is based on the fundamental idea in this revelation that God is holy, that he is just and under his government man is to be held to moral accountability. It is recognized as an undeniable principle that man becomes like unto that which he worships, that he approaches the standard towards which he strives.

The Bible is the world's supreme book because it presents Jesus Christ to the world as man's only Savior and the supremest pattern of moral excellence. Jesus Christ cannot be separated from the world's best civilization. Future hopes rest in him and in loyalty to him. The Bible is our original source of knowledge concerning him.

The Bible is supreme because it guarantees a life beyond the grave. Jesus rose from the dead. Because he lives we shall live also. The Bible makes heaven our eternal home. In answering our supremest questions, even concerning immortality, it is for all men the Supreme Book.

ROADLESS RUSSIA

Russia is a roadless land. It is inconceivable to the foreign visitor who has ever left the beaten track of the railways in Russia how a great empire can have subsisted so long and so successfully amid the competition of the rival states beyond its borders without even a pretense at roads.

The secret, of course, lies in the fact that for five or six months in the year nature herself provides roads over the greater part of the expanse of All the Russias, admirably smooth, glassy roadways over hard-worn snow. The traffic is further cheapened over these roads by the substitution of a sledge runner for the wheel and axle. This brings the cost of land carriage as near the cheapness of water-borne freight as possible, and it is the principal reason why Russia, in the twentieth century, is still a roadless land.

There are some 44,000 miles of railway in Russia, and not one-third that figure of metalled roads! The roads are, even more markedly than the railways, which of late have begun to consider economic and commercial needs, strategic roads from the center to the confines of the empire. It is the intention of the council of ministers to set about remedying this defect, and it is hoped to remove it within the next decade. A beginning is to be made with European Russia only, leaving all Siberia, Central Asia, etc., for later. The proportion of lineal miles of road to square miles of territory, ac-

According to the proposals before the council of ministers, is to be as one to ten. In France the proportion is one to one, and in the worst provided European country it is not less than one to eight. Therefore Russia is aiming at much less than other countries already have, and for the most part have had for many centuries.

To make in ten years the 165,000 miles of roads required is one of these gigantic measures of reform comparable only to the agrarian settlement scheme on which the present government of Russia is steadily engaged. The money cost of constructing for European Russia only sufficient roads to provide one lineal mile to ten square miles of country is estimated at little under two hundred millions sterling, a sum far beyond the capacity of Russia to provide for this purpose in money. But if Russia has not the money, she undoubtedly has the men, and these have nowadays plenty of spare time, holidays, etc., so that the eminently practical plan of the council of ministers is to get these roads made in the course of the next decade by requiring local labor and resources to give up so much otherwise wasted time to the task, materials being supplied where not found on the spot.

It is roughly estimated that not more than half a week a year from every man and horse in rural Russia would provide sufficient labor to complete the scheme without unduly burdening any individual or class.—London Standard.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are too Dangerous for Oakland People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with the reliable and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in this locality.

Henry Haas of Hayward, Cal., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has proven beyond a doubt that this remedy possesses wonderful curative powers. For some time my kidneys were weak, the kidney secretions passing too frequently and causing me no end of annoyance. A friend spoke so highly of Doan's Kidney Pills that later when I saw them advertised I was led to get a supply. Their use quickly corrected the trouble from my kidneys and since then I have recommended them at every opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

RAISE DEMANDED OF EASTERN ROADS

Engineers Ask Increase in Wages of From 15 to 25 Per Cent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Locomotive engineers on all railroads in the eastern territory have made demands for a general increase in wages ranging from 15 to 25 per cent. The demands involve all roads east of Chicago and north of the line of the Norfolk & Western Railway and of the Ohio river. The object is to standardize the wage scale as was done by the trainmen and conductors in 1910.

The General Managers' Association has been asked to appoint a committee to negotiate with a committee of the brotherhood. Railroad men believe the time is inopportune and are inclined to think the railroads will not grant the demands.

PROSPECTORS OF WEST JOIN HANDS

Alliance of America Formed to Assist Gold Seekers in Bettering Conditions.

BISHOP, Jan. 25.—The Prospectors' Alliance of America, a national organization was perfected here yesterday by representative mining men and prospectors from the various mining sections of the west. Jim Butler, discoverer of Tonopah and one of the most widely known prospectors of the country, was unanimously chosen as the first president of the alliance. Other prominent mining men elected to office were: Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada as one of the board of directors; Eugene Grutt of Rawhide, director; Attorney L. C. Hall of Bishop, vice-president and director and A. H. Swallow, former District Attorney of Goldfield, a director. Nearly 1000 members were enrolled. Articles of incorporation and by-laws were adopted.

The alliance will be chartered under the laws of the state of California, and the purposes of the organization, as set forth in the articles of incorporation, constitute as remarkable an instrument as has probably ever been filed with the secretary of any state in the nation. The purposes, as they appear in the articles of incorporation, read:
Primary purpose 1.—To assist the prospectors of America in bettering their condition by protecting them in the enjoyment of the rights and privileges guaranteed them by the Constitution of the United States and the mining laws, customs and usages heretofore existing throughout the country, and by advancing in every lawful manner the interests of the prospecting industry.
Second—to resist by all lawful means those encroachments, illegal restrictions and abuse of authority on the part of government departments and bureaus and officers thereof in the administration of the national forest reserve, and those vast areas of the public domain arbitrarily withdrawn and withheld at the present time from settlement and occupation by the public.

DICKENS ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED

This month marks the one hundredth anniversary of Charles Dickens' birth, and to celebrate it the Kings' Daughters of the First Baptist church have planned a Dickens Evening on Friday, February 16 in the lecture room of the church.

A large number of young people in the church will present Dickens' character. A dramatization from Pickwick Papers, in charge of Mrs. Sidney Yard, will bring back many laughable memories to the older generation. Other tableaux from Nicholas Nickleby, David Copperfield and other books with enterprising readings will be given, as well as the old favorite, "Warley's Waxworks." The Courtesy Circle of Kings' Daughters, of which Mrs. A. E. Hall is the leader, is giving this entertainment to pay the pledges on the church building fund. The program committee is: Mrs. L. F. Crockett, chairman; Mrs. Robert Gaylord, Miss Maybelle Babcock, Mrs. John Peacemaker, Mrs. Clarence Caldwell, Mrs. William Towner, Mrs. Gaymon and Mrs. Perry Brown.

MUCH SINGING ON THE BILL AT BELL THEATER

TEXAS TOMMY DANCERS.

Singing Alpine melodies characteristic of the Tyrol and dancing the spirited folk dances, the Santhalier troupe, direct from the London Coliseum, won much applause at the Bell theater. These six fresh-faced women and one lone man give an act that is likeable.
"Erin's Isle," a singing creation which gives three players, besides electricians and scene painters, ample opportunity to revive the old songs and to show the beautiful scenery of Killarney, shares honors with the Tyroleans. William Burt, May Eison and Hortense Searle, the latter being the soprano of the troupe, lend enchantment to the act by their fine voices.

Al and Jack Gruet, minstrel men, who play a half dozen instruments, gave a jolly bit of minstrelsy and fun.
Calvert Dean and Lela Price have a college skit in which a piano, a lot of pennants and some college wit make up a bit of pleasant.

William J. Coleman, the Irish wit, tells stories that amuse.

Maglin, Edith and Nichols open the bill in a knockabout comedy act that is as laughable as it is foolish.
As a special added attraction, six contestants strive for honors in a Texas Tommy dancing carnival and despite the adverse legislation against the dance and the general storm of protest it has aroused, the Bell management are taxed in their seating capacity to take care of the multitudes that are thronging the theater to see the contest.

EXPORTS INCREASE DURING PAST YEAR

The Produce of United States Eagerly Sought by Foreign Markets.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Exports of domestic produce of the United States for the year 1911 increased heavily, while imports for the same period were generally diminished, according to figures made public today by the Bureau of Statistics.

Imports of the same articles, both free and dutiable, were reduced in total value from $1,652,900,000 for 1910 to $1,535,100,000 for 1911.

Famous Expert Tells

How Fat May Be Removed Rapidly and Safely in Summer by a Simple Home Remedy Without Causing Wrinkles, Disturbing the Diet or Necessity for Exercise.

"Fat is nothing but unused energy," says a prominent physician, and the man or woman who is burdened with it can easily get rid of it if they wish. All they need is 1/2 ounce of Marmola, 1/2 ounce of Peppermint Extract, 1/2 ounce of Aniseed and 1/2 ounce of Peppermint Water; all of which they can get at any good drug store for a few cents. Then let them take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until they are down to the weight they want to be.

This simple home recipe is far and away better than any or all the patent or secret medicines, for it reduces the fat safely and harmlessly, even during the hottest weather. The ingredients are in fact beneficial to the system, having both tonic and purifying qualities, and so help rather than distress the stomach. The remedy does not cause wrinkles, for it reduces one gradually and naturally, preserving a good outline, and, best of all, needs neither physical exercise to help it do the work nor does it require any change in diet—once one gets results and still take things easy—eating meanwhile just what, when and how he or she pleases. Be sure and get the Marmola in a sealed package, so that you get Marmola and not a substitute.

MARTIAN CANALS ARE DOUBLING

Something Is "Doing" On Mars, According to Flagstaff Astronomer.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Jan. 25.—The two Martian canals, Ganges and Jamuna, have just been detected at the Lowell Observatory to be in process of doubling. The most interesting thing is that in both the strong line emanates from one and the same care-like egress from the dark regions, the canals then proceeding 1,000 or 1,500 miles in different directions across the Martian desert. It is the first time this particular phenomenon has been observed.

AID SOCIETY PLANS WHIST TOURNAMENT

A whist tournament will be given by branch 35, Catholic Ladies' Aid Society on Wednesday evening, January 31, in the parish auditorium, Persa and Tenth streets. Garrison is in charge: Miss Sarah Flynn, Miss Ella Flynn, Miss Nora Lydon, Miss Martha Reeder, Miss Josie Donovan, Mrs. Belle Spencer, Miss May Tracey, Miss Monica McManus. The branch hopes to make a considerable sum for the relief fund, which is depleted by the special Christmas work done for the poor of West Oakland. Mrs. H. E. Nagle, the president of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society No. 35, has the active co-operation of all the members.
The social committee is planning for a pre-Lenten dance on the evening of February 19 in Fraternity hall West Oakland.

MEXICAN AMBASSADOR GUEST OF EMMANUEL

He was received by King Victor Emmanuel, to whom he presented the thanks of the president of the Mexican republic as well as of the Mexican people for the participation of Italy in the centennial celebration of Mexican independence in 1910.
King Victor Emmanuel showed great interest in, and an intimate knowledge of Mexican affairs. He has invited Senor de La Barra to a state dinner at the Palace this evening.

MORGAN MAY FINANCE CHINESE REVOLUTION

PEKING, Jan. 25.—Willard Straight, agent for J. P. Morgan & Co., will leave Peking today for Nanking, capital of the provisional republican government. This is causing considerable speculation as to whether the American capitalist is preparing to finance the revolutionists, equipped with Japan's apparent willingness to assist the dynasty with military force, this move becomes significant. Considering the approaching bankruptcy of the Manchu government and the financial weakness of Japan, it is hardly probable that Japan would wage war against the Chinese republic were the latter supported by American capital.

Want Beautiful Hair? Use This Shampoo

"The reason so many women have dull, brittle, stringy hair—hair that splits at the ends, fades and falls out—is because of employing alkaline shampoos. This robs the hair of its natural oil and causes brittle, dry, and falling hair. The shampoo I use creates a thick, white lather—cleanses, soothes and softens the scalp, and while the hair is so silky and easy to do up."

GORMAN MADE PRESIDENT OF CIVIC ASSOCIATION

New Organization to Work for Equalization of Assessed Valuations

The Alameda Civic Association was permanently organized last night at an enthusiastic meeting in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, when delegates from 25 improvement clubs chose the following officers: President, Charles F. Gorman; vice-president, Fred L. Shaw; secretary, Dr. G. B. N. Clow; treasurer, R. E. Hummel. The object of the association is set forth in the by-laws, which were drawn by a committee consisting of J. W. Phillips, H. N. Gard, R. E. Hummel, Fred L. Shaw and W. A. Wann, is to assist the city and county assessors in bringing about and maintaining equitable assessed valuations on the properties in Alameda county and to take such action as may be deemed necessary for the civic betterment of the county.

Most important among the suggestions made last night was that of Judge John C. Curn of Emeryville, who announced that he had spent some time in considering ways and means by which the assessment rolls could be made familiar to the greatest number of people throughout the county. He referred to the photographic system of copying the block books as recommended for use in the Recorder's office for records recently by the Alameda County Taxpayers' Association.

PLAN CIRCULATION. This system, he pointed out, could be used equally as well in making copies of the block books. His plan was that the newly formed association should have prepared a set of these books by the photo process and that same be distributed among the different organizations affiliated with the Civic Association. It would then fall upon the district club to circulate them among property owners and get what they considered a fair estimation of the value of their property.

It was stated by President Gorman that the difference between the assessment of property in Oakland by the city and county officers amounted to $12,000,000 or an annual discrepancy of more than $135,000.

"This fact alone seems to be a sufficient cause for our getting together and working for an adjustment," he said. "It is time that something is done to put the assessment rolls on a more equal basis, for we realize that Oakland has suffered in the past from such an indefinite system of valuing property within the city."

"We realize that the city of Oakland is at a crisis," said Vice-President Shaw in taking the chair. "We must all get together now and do our duty, for things cannot be continued in their present status much longer without resulting seriously."

While no definite proposition was adopted at last night's meeting, it was announced that on Friday evening, February 2, there would be a special meeting at which both City Assessor Gross and County Assessor Horner would be present. The situation would be gone over thoroughly with them and ways and means determined upon for carrying on the work. That the association will be content with nothing short of a complete revision of the assessment rolls was the sentiment expressed by several speakers.

CLOW TO EXPLAIN.

Secretary Clow was instructed to appear before the meeting of the Mothers' Clubs today and inform those present what had been done at last night's meeting in order that if they desired to send delegates to the next meeting they could take some action. At the next meeting the different improvement clubs will be required to send three delegates as provided for in the by-laws and the clubs will also be sent communications relating what transpires at the regular meetings and the names of the delegates present. Several letters were received from taxpayers endorsing the steps taken toward equalizing the assessed valuation of city property.

The next meetings of the Civic Association will be on February 2 with the Assessors and on February 8 a regular meeting as provided in the by-laws.

The following accredited delegates were present:

W. E. Gibson, Chamber of Commerce; Wilbur Walker, Merchants Exchange; W. R. Thomas, Central Oakland Improvement Club; C. W. Childs, First Ward Improvement Club; E. Bardell, Hopkins Street Improvement Club; William A. Smith, Melrose Improvement Club; John F. Hood, Taxpayers Improvement Club; W. E. Sansone, Central Improvement Club of Alameda; C. Hubmann, Laurel Grove Improvement Club; J. W. Phillips, Manufacturers and Producers Committee; E. W. Hayden, Latham Terrace Improvement Club; Fred L. Shaw, Santa Fe Improvement Club; W. A. Wann, Progress and Prosperity Committee; R. E. Hummel, United Improvement Clubs.

The following announced that they would qualify at the next meeting: Herman Kewer, East Oakland Heights Improvement Club; J. B. Beaty, Peralta-Clement Improvement Club; Mark A. Thomas, Durant Improvement Club; E. H. Simonds, Vernon-Rock Ridge Improvement Club; W. E. Moody, North Oakland Improvement Club; Judge John Curn, Emeryville.

BY-LAWS PASSED.

The following by-laws were presented and passed:

Regular meeting—This association shall meet every second Thursday of each month in the Oakland Chamber of Commerce Building.

Special meetings—Special meetings may be held at any time at the call of the President or at the written request of five members.

The duties of officers—The duties of the president, the vice-president, the secretary and the treasurer shall be those usually pertaining to such officers. They shall hold office for a period of one year and until their successors are elected.

SPREAD OF RABIES FEARED IN EAST

Automobiles to Be Stopped On Long Island and Dogs Shot if Secreted.

WESTBURY, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Following the death of several valuable horses and polo ponies from rabies, the strictest quarantine ever established on Long Island went into effect here today with a view to preventing afflicted animals from carrying the disease to other townships. Armed deputy sheriffs are to be posted in various sections of the town and the canine members of the strictest of the annual spring hunts of some of the famous hunting clubs.

The sheriff's instructions to his deputies orders them to stop carriages and automobiles traversing the roads in the vicinity of the estates of wealthy residents of Meadowbrook. Whenever they see other vehicles nearby and to shoot any dogs that may be found secreted in the machines. The Long Island Railroad Company has been prohibited from transporting any dogs out of the infected district.

PROHIBITS SALE OF WOOD ALCOHOL

The New York Board of Health Fears Spread of Sickness and Blindness.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The New York Board of Health has added to the city's sanitary code a regulation prohibiting the sale or use of wood alcohol in any food or drink or in any preparation or mixture intended for internal or external use by man.

This includes its use by barbers and others in hair tonics, face lotions and other external applications. Such use the board says has been repeatedly shown to have caused sickness, partial or total blindness and even death.

ROCKEFELLER BALKS AT TOO MUCH EXPENSE

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 25.—There will be no "headless horseman" bridge over the Pocantico river unless the architect who designed it can bring its cost down to $15,000. William Rockefeller some time ago offered to build the bridge as a memorial to Washington Irving, but the plans recently submitted are not in accord with the amount of money he intended to expend, and for that reason he has rejected them. Unless new plans for a less expensive bridge structure are forthcoming his offer will be withdrawn.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

CARVES 'LAST SUPPER' IN MOTHER OF PEARL

LONG BEACH, Jan. 25.—The most beautiful piece of artistic work ever executed in southern California has just been completed by Nicola Afana, 17 years old, who came from Bethlehem, Palestine, a year ago with his mother and brothers. It is a reproduction in a mother-of-pearl of the famous painting, "The Last Supper." In a recess of this work of art, which is carved from fifty pearls, are the Disciples sitting at a table with Jesus in the center. Each disciple is carved out of a pearl, as is the principal character at the supper scene.

Just over the recess, on the top edge of the frame, is shown a mold, in the center of which is the tomb from which the Christ has risen and also the two Marys weeping. On each side, in separate forms, are the angels.

The whole is wonderful. Its value is $20,000. The boy will place it on exhibition in the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He commenced the work when slightly over 13 years of age and has devoted eight hours a day since then to it.

It's difficult for a man to get a suit of clothes to fit him—if he doesn't have the price.

Success Means Work

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

THE first rule for the attainment of success is application. Nothing is accomplished without work. If it should happen that by some freak of good fortune or circumstance a fleeting success is thrust upon one it is more harmful than beneficial in the long run, as it often means undoing all that has been done, and harder work and more trouble is necessary to reach a position from which you can again advance logically. Our real education begins with our first success.

Women have often said to me when I have explained to them the continuous regime they must pursue to reduce themselves or take on flesh by exercise and diet, or to become singers or actresses, "Oh, but will I have to keep up the work always?" "Yes, you will have to work always if you amount to anything above mediocrity."

To keep beautiful you must work to find the proper food for yourself; you must work at the exercises that will bring health and beauty; you must work to keep yourself in splendid health and a state of immaculate grooming; you must work to put aside the petty annoyances of every-day life; you must not let them linger in your brain beyond the moment; you must work to keep your heart open to sympathy and love. You must work unceasingly to keep your body, heart and brain exercised in the proper way.

If you are a singer or an actress the importance of your work begins when you arrive at your first success. The history of the stage is full of the names of players who have made one success in their profession and never repeated it. These people are called "one part actors," because they put aside all thought of continuing to work when the word "success" had been coupled with their names. Each success must have its complement of work, and each individual success means a greater amount of labor than the one before it. The famous actors and actresses of the past never ceased to observe all phases and conditions of life and character. They worked continuously. Singers who are successful also work always. Most of the famous ones spend their vacation studying with the great teachers, learning new operas and absorbing new ideas to help them on to future successes. These are the people who are always visible. They stand above their fellows, and whatever God-given genius may be theirs it is nothing but hard work that places them on the pedestal. Those men and women who rest upon one laurel will find the stem that holds them so frail that the slightest contact with a real successful worker will break it. Remember, to make the most of your gifts is to show appreciation of the Giver.

BARBARA.—The green soap treatment is excellent for getting rid of blackheads. The "green soap" is not green, but yellow and may be purchased in any drug store. Before using the green soap bathe the face in warm water, not too hot, but so the heat the soap and as many of the blackheads as will come; then use cold water until the face is thoroughly cool. Wipe the face thoroughly with sterilized gauze of cheese cloth. Fill the skin with cold cream, just "dabbed" on all over; let it remain half an hour, then wipe off any that is superfluous with a soft cloth. The amount of dirt that comes will be incredible. Continue this treatment every night until the blackheads have disappeared.

ALICE.—If you wish to keep your hair light it must be washed at least every two weeks. Be sure and get all the soap out of it, for nothing spoils the luster of blonde hair as soap if it is allowed to remain in the hair. Once a month add a tablespoonful of peroxide of hydrogen to the last rinsing water. This will help to keep the hair light. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope I shall be happy to send you a formula for an excellent shampoo for blonde hair which will retain the golden glints so much desired by the blonde girl.

day night of four negroes, one of them a mulatto girl, for the alleged murder of Norman Hadley, indicate that the mob certainly put at least two innocent persons to death, and probably three, and there is no convincing evidence that the four negro had anything to do with the killing of Hadley.

It is certain that Bertha Hathaway, the girl was innocent, and it is said John Cruikshank and Herbert Henderson, two of the three men lynched, could have established alibis.

BUSINESS SESSIONS OF EPISCOPAL CONVOCATION COME TO A CLOSE

DR. CLAMPETT DELIVERS ADDRESS

Bishop Nichols Conducts Ceremonies at Site of New Oakland Edifice.

Officers Are Chosen by Delegates Who Attended Conventions in Berkeley.

The final business session of Episcopal convocation of the diocese of California was held at St. Mark's church, Berkeley, this morning prior to adjournment to participate in the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of St. Paul's church in Oakland.

The reports of the committees on the state of the church showed a steady growth during the past year. Rev. Clifton Macos, of Oakland reported for the committee on the amplification of the prayer books and requested that the committee's existence be continued until further work was done upon the books.

The House of Clergy Women held no afternoon session today. At the final meeting this morning a report of the committee on charities and church institutions was made by Mrs. Richardson of San Jose. It was disclosed that the Seamen's Institution of San Francisco was in bad condition financially and had been kept alive only by the contribution of $500 from an anonymous source. It was recommended that the home be taken completely over by the diocese next year.

REPORTS PRESENTED.
The report of the establishment of the Pacific Divinity School in Berkeley last year was made and William A. Van Bokkelen, treasurer of the diocese of California, gave an address on the widows' and orphans' funds. Reports of committees on Friendly Society and Children's Aid and on the Guild of St. Barnabas, for Nurses, were presented.

Before an assemblage of several hundred clergymen and delegates of the Episcopal Diocese, ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of St. Paul's Episcopal church took place this afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Many members of the church from both sides of the bay were also in attendance.

MARCH TO NEW SITE.
Members of the convocation and House of Clergy Women assembled at the present office of St. Paul's and marched to the new site, two blocks away.

The ceremony of cornerstone laying was conducted by the Right Reverend William Ford Nichols, Bishop of California, assisted by clergymen Rev. Dr. Frederick Clappett, director Trinity church, San Francisco, was the principal speaker. His address was of a congratulatory nature.

United meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the Daughters of the King will be held in St. Mark's church, Berkeley, this evening. Addresses will be made by Bishop Nichols and by Hubert Carleton, secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

OFFICERS ELECTED.
The following officers and members of boards were elected by the diocese convention yesterday afternoon:
Chancellor of the diocese—James P. Langhorn of San Francisco.
Registrar—Rev. W. A. Brewer, rector of St. Matthews' school, Burlingame.
Board of Christian Education—Rev. Edward Lamb Parsons, Rev. J. O. Lincoln, J. R. Watson, Prof. F. J. Lange.
Board of Missions—Rev. Alexander Allen, Rev. G. M. Cutting, Rev. W. E. Cooper, R. M. J. Armstrong, George E. Butler, B. A. McAlister and E. D. Beylard.

SPEAKS ON DISEASE.
The Rev. Clifton Macos, rector of Trinity Church, Oakland, and president of the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in the work of which he has recently become deeply interested, delivered a short address on the necessity for greater care in avoiding the spread of the disease and quoted some alarming statistics in support of his argument.

He even referred to the possibility of the transmission of tuberculosis by the passing of the chalice at communion, unless the vessel is clean.
Bishop William Ford Nichols, the presiding officer, said:
"Such statements as this, no matter

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERESTS CAPITAL

President Moore Wires of the Success Among Washington Officials.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—At a meeting of the Panama Pacific Exposition directors yesterday, the Liberty bell proposition was discussed and the offer of the Southern Pacific to transport it to this city from Philadelphia, free of charge, was read. No definite action, however, was taken.

Word was received from President Moore, who is in Washington, to the effect that the leading officials of the State Department and the ministers of foreign countries had been called upon and that great enthusiasm was displayed by the various dignitaries in connection with the 1915 fair. Last night President Moore and Attorney Curtis H. Lindley and James McNabb of this city, were guests at a reception given by President Taft at the White House.

The offers of automobiles for the use of the committees entertaining the passengers on the Steamer Cleveland have come in great volume and there are plenty of machines to go round so that the entire passenger list as well as the officers of the vessel will be entertained.

Newsboy With $604 Would Buy Bonds

Thrifty Los Angeles Youth Wants to Sink Savings in Acqueduct Issue.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—A newsboy with $604 which he desired to invest in Los Angeles acqueduct bonds was found here in the person of Thomas E. McGrath, Jr., 10 years old. Young McGrath earned his money selling papers in Los Angeles.

He wrote a letter to Mayor Alexander offering to sink his capital in the bonds. As the bonds are all of one thousand dollar denomination, the offer had to be declined.

I have investigated this matter and have been informed by expert authority that the observance by the officiating priest of proper care in cleansing the vessels of the sacramental rite will not result to any danger."

FOR VICE SUPPRESSION.
A campaign by the clergy and laymen and churchwomen of the Episcopal Diocese of California for a better regulation of public amusement places, for civic commissions for the suppression of vice, and for the enforcement of all child labor laws was decided upon at the annual joint convention of the clergy and delegates to the House of Churchwomen yesterday afternoon.

These matters were discussed on the report of the Commission on Social Service and the commission was given full power by the convention to act as its representative.
The resolution delegating the authority of the commission was read by the Rev. E. L. Parsons, rector of St. Mark's Church.
The Rev. C. N. Lathrop, rector of the Church of the Advent of San Francisco, read the report of the commission and told of the work in helping men and women released from prison in getting a fresh start and its work in securing more advantageous laws for the protection of children.
The reception accorded Bishop and Mrs. William Ford Nichols in the parish house of St. Mark's church last night was perhaps the most brilliant affair which thus far has attended the convention work. The affair was under the general direction of the House of Churchwomen, assisted by delegates to the convention. The evening was spent in a social manner, musical and literary numbers being on the program.

FOUNTAIN TO REPLACE FLAGSTAFF AT GORE

Mayor Mott Tells Council of Plans for the Erection of Bronze Monument

That the tall flagstaff at Telegraph avenue, Broadway and Sixteenth street is to be removed to Lakeside Park and a beautiful bronze fountain, the gift of Miss Emily Latham, set in its place, was announced to the city this morning by Mayor Frank K. Mott. The announcement was made in response to a query from the Merchants Exchange.

Wilber Walker, secretary of the Merchants Exchange, addressed the Council as follows:
"The Exchange has a committee here this morning seeking information as to whether the Council has any intention of removing the tall flagpole from the gore at Broadway and Telegraph avenue. The committee is not in favor of the plan of removing the flagstaff or of keeping it but is looking for information. The flagstaff, which is set in 12 feet of concrete, was placed out of funds in a surplus left over from a Fourth of July celebration."

Mayor Frank K. Mott explained the intent of the Council in regard to the flagstaff. He said:
"There has been some apprehension as to the safety of permitting this tall pole to remain at this point, as it is feared that the wood near the base may deteriorate from dry rot. If the pole should fall it would be a menace to life. It is also necessary to paint the pole at this time."

"The Council felt that the time had come to move the pole, as an opportunity was recently given to obtain for the city a fine bronze fountain. The pole will probably be removed to Lakeside Park and set up there."

"We received an offer from Miss Emily Latham of the gift of a beautiful bronze fountain. This has been accepted and will be substituted for the flagpole. Three carloads of granite for the base are now on the way."

ALLEGED PLOTTER AGAIN FALLS ILL
Bert H. Conners' Trial Postponed Half Day to Give Him Relief.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—Bert H. Conners, the alleged dynamite plotter, fell ill again today in court and caused another postponement of his trial on the charge of having attempted to blow up the County Hall of Records in September, 1910.

Conners became ill in the middle of the morning session of court and exhibited such signs of pain from acute indigestion that Judge Frank B. Willis ordered a recess until this afternoon. The court instructed Conners' attorneys that they were calling too many witnesses in their endeavors to impeach J. M. Park and Joseph B. Bishop, the county detectives, who supplied most of the evidence against the defendant.

ACCUSE U. S. OF 'FOMENTING' REVOLT

Hazel Irwin Declares in Affidavit Men Were Drugged and Robbed.

The Investigation of ex-Prize Fighter's Place to Be Thorough.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The story of an alleged attempt to drug two citizens in a resort on the Barbary Coast managed by Jimmie Lawlor, the ex-prizefighter, is revealed in an affidavit in the hands of Captain of Police Duke of the Central station, who is investigating the charges made by pretty Ada Fulton of Sacramento to Police Judge Shortall.

The affidavit is sworn to by Hazel Irwin of 910 Montgomery street, who worked in the Turf dance hall and cafe up to a few weeks ago. The young woman declares in her sworn statement that about nine months ago a civilian came in and danced several dances with her, afterward going into a rear room. During his absence a hanger-on told Lawlor that the man had between $200 and $300 on him, whereupon, she asserts, she was instructed to take him into a booth on his return.

They drank several bottles of beer, after which Lawlor, who she claims was acting as waiter, placed a glass before her, saying this is yours and gave a second glass to the customer.

MAN FALLS ASLEEP.
As soon as the latter had drained it he fell asleep and she avers that she was told that she could leave and that everything was all right and that Lawlor would go through him. Later, she goes on to say, she was given $2.50 as her share of what was taken. She alleges she became rather anxious about the man's condition, as he was still sound asleep when she left at 2:30 a. m.

The next day she asked Pubsky, the door man, about him, and states that he told her that they couldn't wake up the sleeper and had taken him out into an alley and left him.

In order to make this chain of evidence stronger, the police are looking for Pubsky, who is no longer employed at the place.
SOLDIER WAS "WISE."
About three weeks ago, according to Miss Irwin, a soldier was put through a similar course of treatment except that he was too shrewd for the method of the place. On this occasion, she says, a glass of whiskey was poured for the man and she was given a bottle and a glass empty. She noticed the peculiar color of the liquor of her companion and says when he lifted it up he said, "Here's how," and then throwing the whiskey over his shoulder to the floor cried, "If that fellow thinks he can fool me he is badly mistaken."

Captain Duke is collecting similar affidavits and expects to proceed against the place and have the Board of Police Commissioners name an investigation. The license is in the name of Paul De Martini.

Porch Climber Hastily Slides Down Lattice Into Arms of Policeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—A porch climber, who climbed the lattice work of the Lesmont apartments at California and Stockton streets, walked into a trap at an early hour this morning and was captured.

The chances against his accomplishing his intended burglary and getting safely away were two to one and he lost.

Mrs. A. Lang, a niece of Lieutenant Tom Tobin, of the police department, was awakened by a slight tap on the window, and, lighting a reading lamp, she saw the figure of a man about to climb in. Picking up a basin she hurled it at him and he slid down two stories to the ground only to walk into the arms of Policeman J. Coleman. The officer had seen him when he started to climb up and was waiting for him with outstretched arms, knowing that he must be captured. He gave the name of William Brown and was charged with attempted burglary.

Petition of Pitman Brings Out Fact in Conjunction With Probation Work.

District Attorney's Office Aids in Finding Employment for Needy.

Ever since the probation office was established by the legislature to act in conjunction with the criminal department of the Superior Court for the redemption of certain classes of criminals outside of prison walls, it has been the unalterable rule of the court never to admit an offender to probation unless there was a position waiting for him. This has in a measure made the probation office an employment agency and not infrequently has involved the District Attorney's office along the same line. Whenever District Attorney Donahue and his staff have been requested by the Court to co-operate with Probation Officer Russ in looking for work for a prospective probationer their policy has been to perform the additional duty cheerfully, with the result that the work of the probation office along this line has at times been materially lightened.

These facts about one of the most important phases of probation work were brought out late yesterday during the hearing by Judge Ellsworth of the petition of J. N. Pitman for probation. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge of failing to provide for his minor child and according to the report of Probation Officer Russ the only thing that stood between the prisoner and probation under restrictions, so that he could be made to take care of his offspring was the lack of a position for him.

RUESS OPPOSED.
Ruess said that he was strenuously opposed to granting probation if work was not waiting for the prisoner and that his office had always been able to find work for prisoners if given time enough to look positions up. Deputy District Attorney W. B. Smith informed the Court in this regard that his office was always willing to co-operate with the probation officer in the matter of finding employment, and would do so in the case of Pitman.

Judge Ellsworth, who only recently assumed the duties of the criminal department of the Superior Court, repeated the hope expressed a few days previously that the Board of Supervisors would find its way clear to appropriate money under the state law that enables counties to set delinquent parents to work and pay their families $1.50 a day for maintenance, and said he was in earnest accord with the probation officer's objection to probation without employment. The jurist declared that in his opinion it would be establishing a precedent that might destroy the efficiency of the probation system completely to give offenders provisional liberty without employment, and that he did not propose to deviate from the established rule.

ADDITIONAL DUTIES.
"I know that the work of securing satisfactory positions and homes for probationers before their release imposes additional trying duties upon the probation officer and his assistants, and also upon the District Attorney's staff whenever it is called upon to co-operate," said Judge Ellsworth, "but as there appears to be no other solution of the problem at the present time, it is up to them to do the best they can."

Pitman's case was continued until next Tuesday morning with the understanding that if a position was found for him in the meantime the Court would advance his case upon the calendar for immediate disposition. Judge Ellsworth said he would do this because he believed it would be to the best interests of society for the prisoner to get to work and make a living for his child.

Safe Deposit Boxes Dripping With Water

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Two of three vaults of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company in the burned Equitable building were thrown open to holders of safe deposit boxes today, part of the debris having been cleared away. A large line of persons began taking out securities. Police guarded the walk and box holders were required to present cards of admission issued by the company. Although some of the boxes were dripping with water there was apparently no damage to the contents.

Rep. Rainey of Illinois Declares State Department Winked at War.

Says Panama's Declaration of Independence Was Written in New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—American interests, with the knowledge and cooperation of the State Department, "fomented" the revolution of 1903 in Columbia which resulted in the independence of Panama, according to Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois before the house foreign affairs committee today.

The committee began hearings on Rainey's resolution for an inquiry into the taking of the Panama Canal strip by the United States.

"I propose to show in this hearing that the declaration of independence of Panama was prepared in New York in the office of William Nelson Cromwell, and that November 3, 1903, was the date agreed on for the beginning of the revolution in Columbia," said Rainey.

"Our contention is that the part the United States played for months prior to this revolution is a stain on the history of this government and that we should make some financial reparation to Columbia for the damage done her."

The committee adjourned until next week without acting.

FORESTRY DIVISION COL. OCCUPATION IS PLANNED AT U. OF C.

Regents Provide for Professorship to Head Proposed School at Berkeley.

PRESIDENT WHEELER IS TO APPOINT MAN

Forests to Be Studied by Club Which Will Be Organized Tomorrow Night.

FITCHBURG, Jan. 25.—The Fitchburg Consolidated Improvement Club held a meeting last night in Lockwood school, 367½ North Main street, for the purpose of hearing a discussion on the water question. The annual election of officers was also held. D. M. Rames was elected president of the club for the fourth time. The other officers were elected as follows: B. F. Hood, vice-president; W. R. Tappan, secretary; J. W. Jones, treasurer; J. B. Wren, H. M. Fuller and B. V. Cummie.

ODDEN GIVES SURPRISE.

Colonel M. Odden made an address on the water question and gave his hearers a great surprise. He said:

"I feel it a privilege to speak before this club of which I am a member, tonight, in the presence of so many of the past two or three years, at that time asking your signatures to contracts with the Bay Cities Water Company. I now appear before you, as I will before the other clubs, to ask that you should change your water supply, because I believe you are being fairly treated."

"The publication and issuance to the investing public this month of a circular to sell $1,445,000 of bonds of the Union Water Company, which for the first time I learned that the water rights, and many thousands of acres of water lands in the Mt. Hamilton region, were being sold to the Bay Cities Water Company, had not been assigned to the Union Water Company, its successor, when its contract with the water companies in the trans bay cities were turned over to the latter company, has impelled me to make a public disavowal of any previous knowledge of the sale of the water rights. When I have appeared before the different improvement clubs of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, and asked the water companies to sign contracts with the new company, it was with the distinct understanding that the company fully meant to keep its pledges, to supply the people with water from the Mt. Hamilton water, from reservoirs in the high hills, above the possibility of pollution."

"I am here tonight to show you that it is proposed now to give you only water from the lower sections of the Elmhurst district and the lowlands in the Elmhurst district, and I want to emphasize this, that I received this change in the company's plans in eliminating mountain water as an ultimate source of water. I received the startling information from the bond circular, a copy of which I hold in my hand. I want to say further that I do not believe the company is being treated fairly. These contracts are being treated fairly."

MAKES A CHARGE.

"The Union Water Company of California has practically broken every vital promise made by the Bay Cities Water Company to the people of the trans bay cities. The Union Water Company of California, which is now the successor of the Bay Cities Water Company, and in the ten-year contracts which many thousands of water users in these cities signed with the Bay Cities Water Company, it is expressly stipulated that the heirs, executors, successors or assigns of both parties thereto, shall be bound by the contract and the conditions and terms of its making. Therefore, the promises made by the Bay Cities Water Company should be binding on its successor."

"When the Bay Cities Water Company was soliciting signatures to this contract, the people were told that they would be supplied with water from the Mt. Hamilton water, and the company was promising many thousands of acres owned by said company on four sides of Mt. Hamilton, and in the advertisements published by the Bay Cities Water Company these same promises were made to the people. In the Oakland papers of April 2, 1907, the Bay Cities Water Company's following statement appears: 'For the past fifteen years and with an expenditure of millions of dollars, the Bay Cities Water Company has gradually acquired a chain of watersheds and water rights unequalled by any other water system in the world. These rights include the entire South Fork of the American river, Echo, Silver, Audrain, Twin, Devils and sixteen other Sierra lakes; water properties of acres of lands and water rights on the four sides of Mt. Hamilton. These properties are actual, not possible, sources of supply.'"

"We can and will sell you water such as you have never had run through your pipes; clear, sweet water from the Mt. Hamilton watersheds; water that is absolutely pure."

PROMISES MADE.

"In an advertisement appearing June 1, 1910, referring to a trip made by the Bay Cities Water Company to the city of Alameda to the Mount Hamilton watershed, the ownership of which is claimed by the Bay Cities Water Company, the following statement appears: 'In a report based on a personal visit to our watershed Engineers Chapman and Bannister of Alameda said: "All of the reservoir sites are 150 feet above sea level, and are higher than any reservoir sites now in use in supplying the bay cities with water. All slopes and water courses indicate that but little sediment is washed down by the water in winter, and there is no evidence that the ground has a tendency to slip."'

"That is why we can guarantee the water we will bring into these bay cities to be clear, sweet and absolutely pure. In an advertisement published June 13, 1910, they said: 'We will have no distributing pipes under four inches.' Also in the same advertisement: 'Our contract is a lifebound agreement on our part to do all these things and more.' Further, on May 19, 1910, they said, in an advertisement: 'We will supply your homes with a four inch main instead of a two inch main.'"

"These are only a few out of many similar promises which were made by the Bay Cities Water Company to the water users of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley to induce them to sign ten year contracts with the aforesaid company."

"The next move made in this pretentious problem of water legislation by the Bay Cities Water Company was to transfer its contracts with water users to a new corporation called the Union Water Company of California. This company was organized in San Francisco, and its headquarters are located in the city of San Francisco. In the first paragraph of the circular quoted above stretches along the eastern shore of San Francisco bay from Richmond and San Pablo on the north, to Newark on the south, containing the principal cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond, and several minor cities. There is absolutely no reference directly or indirectly to show that the Union Water Company of California owns a single foot of ground in the Mt. Hamilton watershed or the high Sierras and yet the Bay Cities Water Company claimed to own many thousands of acres in these two regions. Why did they not supply them with absolutely pure water from these sections, transfer the right and title to these lands to the new company that fulfill these contracts? I want to ask if it is not the intention of the Union Water Company, as set out in the circular, to sell $1,445,000 of the bonds of the company, to supply the water users of the trans-bay cities with water from the high Sierras and the eastern shore of San Francisco bay?"

Odden's speech was received in silence, no comment being made on it.

LIFE STORY OF PASTEUR TOLD

Dr. Pasteur Lectures on Work of Scientist and Rise of Bacteriology.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 25.—"Pasteur and the Rise of Bacteriology," was the subject of the third lecture on the Hitchcock Foundation by Dr. Richard Mills Pearce of the University of Pennsylvania, delivered before a large audience in California Hall last evening. The final lecture in the series will be given tomorrow evening.

The labors of Pasteur were recounted as the best way of telling the story of bacteriology for while bacteria were known and theories of infection elaborated and vaccination practiced before his time, it was he who definitely established the importance of bacteria in putrefaction, fermentation and disease and gave to vaccination a scientific basis. This influence of Pasteur on the world of medicine only to that of Virchow or in general biology to Darwin's researches.

PASTEUR'S DIFFICULTIES.

In presenting this story the popular conceptions concerning the infectious diseases as well as the attitude of the medical profession toward these diseases was shown and the many difficulties Pasteur had to overcome were emphasized. Pasteur, a chemist studying the peculiarities of the tartaric acids, was attracted to the biological side of his problem by observations on the fermentation of the salts of these acids. This led immediately to the study of fermentation and later to the study of spontaneous generation, after which it was an easy step to the study of the infectious diseases.

The investigation of the disease of silk worms which was ruining the silk industry of France, first applied by him to silkworms, was now used generally for all solid and fluid foods which have to be canned or bottled before consumption. It was the knowledge of Pasteur's work in fermentation that led Lister to develop the theory of sepsis as applied to surgery and thus added to surgery its greatest boon after anesthesia. Pasteur was not content, however, with the study of the etiology of disease but with true scientific zeal and patriotic ardor desired to find a means of curing some of the diseases which afflict man and cattle of France. The result of this was his celebrated discovery of a vaccine for anthrax and a method of treating chicken cholera. This in turn was followed by his treatment of rabies in man and dogs, and his work on the civilized world in institutes known as Pasteur Institutes.

At about this time bacteriology received another impetus through the work of Robert Koch who introduced solid media for the growth of bacteria and other methods of study by which it was possible to isolate the organisms of various diseases; thus in rapid succession came announcements of the discovery of the bacteria causing tuberculosis, glanders, cholera, diphtheria, lockjaw, etc., which list within the next few years was largely augmented.

The lecture tonight will be on "Modern Problems and Methods."

"COME BACK" NUMBER OF PELICAN IS DUE

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 25.—The "Return Number" is the title of the Pelican, which will be issued next Wednesday.

On the cover will be a crayon sketch by William Weaver, showing "Pelican" returning to college armed with suitcase and dressed in the latest English style. The center page drawing will be on "Vacation Scenes," and will portray the student enjoying his holidays. The artist is James Navoni.

A page drawing concerning "Rag" by Byron B. Brown, showing "Rag" being pulled by S. M. Phillips will enliven the number.

The frontispiece will be a pen and ink sketch also on the subject of "Leap Year."

Have the people who have signed these bay cities companies' contracts, which were assigned to the Union Water Company, any reasonable expectation of getting Mt. Hamilton water or the pure waters derived from melting snows in the high Sierras?

THE PROSPECTUS.

"The prospectus issued by the Union Water Company of California in which an offering is made of the bonds of the company to the amount of $1,445,000, and in which prospectus it is further stated that the company has an outstanding debt of $755,000, as a part of a basis for the additional loan, the following statements appear: 'The Union Water Company of California owns twenty-two pieces of property, widely scattered over the above territory, with an aggregate area of approximately 1750 acres, of which 738 acres are water bearing, and 14 acres reservoir properties.'"

"All of these water bearing properties are in proved territories and were purchased with great care. They have been so selected as to tap the large, deep-seated underground gravel reservoir strata underlying the region under discussion."

"At five principal points water is now being pumped from wells and delivered through many miles of pipe to the present consumers in Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda. The above territory referred to in the first paragraph of the circular quoted above stretches along the eastern shore of San Francisco bay from Richmond and San Pablo on the north, to Newark on the south, containing the principal cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond, and several minor cities. There is absolutely no reference directly or indirectly to show that the Union Water Company of California owns a single foot of ground in the Mt. Hamilton watershed or the high Sierras and yet the Bay Cities Water Company claimed to own many thousands of acres in these two regions. Why did they not supply them with absolutely pure water from these sections, transfer the right and title to these lands to the new company that fulfill these contracts? I want to ask if it is not the intention of the Union Water Company, as set out in the circular, to sell $1,445,000 of the bonds of the company, to supply the water users of the trans-bay cities with water from the high Sierras and the eastern shore of San Francisco bay?"

Odden's speech was received in silence, no comment being made on it.

REEVE INQUEST HELD

ALAMEDA, Jan. 25.—Judge Elmer E. Johnson held an inquest at the Alameda branch morgue today to inquire into the death of B. W. Reeve, a delivery wagon driver for the Oakland postoffice, whose body was found floating in Oakland harbor last week. Reeve was injured the day before he was drowned when his wagon was run down in Oakland by a San Pablo avenue car. He was thrown out and struck on the head, but continued to work and left the mail wagon stables at 10 o'clock at night to go to his home. Instead he evidently went to the harbor front and jumped in. It is believed he jumped from either the Webster street or Harrison street bridge. He wore his coat and shoes when he left the stable, but when the body was recovered the coat and shoes and stockings were missing. There was no evidence of foul play and the jury returned a verdict of apoplexy after listening through intent to commit suicide. Reeve had no immediate family. He had been in ill health for a long time prior to the injury to his head sustained in the collision just before his death.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC STATION ROBBED

ALAMEDA, Jan. 25.—The Park street ticket station of the Southern Pacific, at Park and Lincoln avenues, was robbed last night, the money drawer being riddled and $50 taken. The theft occurred while the night agent, J. F. Darnell, was taking mail to the postoffice, a block away. The agent was gone about 20 minutes and returned to the station to find things apparently as he had left them. It was not until he opened the money drawer that he discovered the theft.

The police could find no trace of how the thief entered and are inclined to believe that Darnell failed to lock the outer door door securely when starting for the postoffice, thus enabling the thief to enter through the office door. The money drawer was a combination till but the thief apparently had no trouble in opening it. The tickets were not molested and no effort was made to rob the safe in which more money was stored.

ALAMEDA SHOE STORE ENTERED BY BURGLARS

ALAMEDA, Jan. 25.—The shoe store of Charles Schneider at 1309 Park street was entered by thieves last night. Some features of the robbery stand out as quite the most original burglary taking place in Alameda of late. The same features also show that the theft was committed by some one familiar with the foundation construction of the Masonic temple in which the store is located. The loot taken, as far as the proprietor has ascertained, consists of two pairs of boys' shoes; No. 5, a pair of boy's shoes No. 6 ½ and a pair of rubber boots. The thief lifted a ventilator grating in the rear of the building, climbed under the building, and from the front of the building his way up between a couple of joists and through a small trap door and thus gained entrance to the store.

The circuitous trail of the thief shows that he must have been familiar with the conditions under the building and also with the location of the small trap door communicating with the window, as a chance burglar would scarcely have been able to figure out this method of gaining admittance to the store.

School Bond Issue May Be Increased to Accommodate
Extra Pupils.

HAYWARD, Jan. 25.—The proposed joining of San Leandro with the Union high school district No. 3, centering here, is looked upon with favor by the local school trustees, it being felt that with the help of San Leandro, the district could accommodate the 50 or 60 pupils who would attend from San Leandro.

Should it be decided not to increase the sum, however, the schoolhouse will be amply large to accommodate the increased attendance for the next few years. The present plans provide for an assembly hall with a seating capacity of 360, without the construction of a balcony. With this addition its capacity would be increased to 500. The school will be built in such a fashion that wings can be added with little difficulty.

The present Union high school district of Eden township includes the communities of Hayward, San Lorenzo, Mt. Eden, Russell City, Palomares, Castro Valley and Roberts Landing. The estimated assessed valuation of this union district exceeds $6,000,000, with a tax of 18 cents on the $100 to support the high school. By the addition of the $3,500,000 assessed valuation of San Leandro it is believed the cost of maintaining the Union high school would be reduced to 10 or 11 cents.

A meeting between a committee from San Leandro and the Hayward school trustees will probably be held tomorrow, when the proposed consolidation will be decided upon.

The board has instructed the Hayward trustees to prepare a document setting forth its complaints against the railroad which it is alleged is not giving this section adequate passenger service.

REDEMPTION OF
OF SHAKESPEARE

Clubman and Librettist Will Discuss Identity of English Bard At U. C.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Jan. 25.—The identity of William Shakespeare will be discussed by Joseph D. Redding, clubman of San Francisco and recent successful novel, in room 101, California hall, Friday evening of next week.

Redding will illustrate his lecture with lantern slides showing parts of London in Shakespeare's time, Elizabethan theater, old manuscripts, portraits, facsimiles of signatures, quartos, etc. There will also be exhibited an original of the first folio of the plays printed in 1623.

Redding is now preparing the Bohemian club flunk's paper for the approaching summer entitled, "The Bohemian of Pan."

The lecture will be open to the public.

Mr. Jas. McCaffrey, mgr. of the Schiltz Hotel, Omaha, Neb., recommends Foley's cures in every case. School Bond Issue May Be Increased to Accommodate
Extra Pupils.

HAYWARD, Jan. 25.—The proposed joining of San Leandro with the Union high school district No. 3, centering here, is looked upon with favor by the local school trustees, it being felt that with the help of San Leandro, the district could accommodate the 50 or 60 pupils who would attend from San Leandro.

Should it be decided not to increase the sum, however, the schoolhouse will be amply large to accommodate the increased attendance for the next few years. The present plans provide for an assembly hall with a seating capacity of 360, without the construction of a balcony. With this addition its capacity would be increased to 500. The school will be built in such a fashion that wings can be added with little difficulty.

The present Union high school district of Eden township includes the communities of Hayward, San Lorenzo, Mt. Eden, Russell City, Palomares, Castro Valley and Roberts Landing. The estimated assessed valuation of this union district exceeds $6,000,000, with a tax of 18 cents on the $100 to support the high school. By the addition of the $3,500,000 assessed valuation of San Leandro it is believed the cost of maintaining the Union high school would be reduced to 10 or 11 cents.

A meeting between a committee from San Leandro and the Hayward school trustees will probably be held tomorrow, when the proposed consolidation will be decided upon.

RICHMOND WANTS

H. McCarthy, the latter gave the contractor and the union a ultimatum, either accede to their demands or the contractor will discharge its nonunion carpenters and replace them with union workmen. This action was refused both by the contractor and the company, the latter stating that it intended pursuing an open shop policy.

FRANKIE BURNS RECEIVES SETBACK TOWARD CHAMPIONSHIP IN HANDS OF JACK BRITTON

JACK BRITTON WINS ALL THE WAY FROM BURNS

Oakland Lad Is No Match for the Clever Chicagoan and is Beaten at Outset of Ten-Round Bout

(By BERT LOWRY)

Just reckon Jack Britton of Chicago as a runner up in that elimination contest of lightweights that is now before the fans of Oakland and San Francisco. Last night at Piedmont pavilion, under the auspices of the Oakland Wheelmen, the Chicago scrapper fought a clean, wonderful battle with Frankie Burns, and when the bout was ended Referee Jack Welsh proclaimed him the winner, and winner he was.

It was the old story of sending the pitcher to the wall once too often. Frankie Burns was shot by Jack Britton. Burns used his left foot to little or no advantage, for the speed was not there and he lacked ability to land when and where he wanted, so the defense was the only thing that kept him from being beaten. To go further into the details of the mill is not necessary except to say that Britton won and won handsomely and is today in the public eye as a fit candidate for further matches around the bay.

HOGAN ENTERTAINS AT SHANNON'S.

"One Round" Hogan continued his grind at Billy Shannon's place over at West End San Rafael, and had quite a crowd on hand to witness his training camp stunts. Like the rest of them, it is the road for Hogan and his morning and gym and boxing work in the afternoon. Yesterday "Iron Man" Fuggey Cove and Jim Fox did the hardest milling with the lightweight, while Marty Kane helped out with a three-round tapping contest.

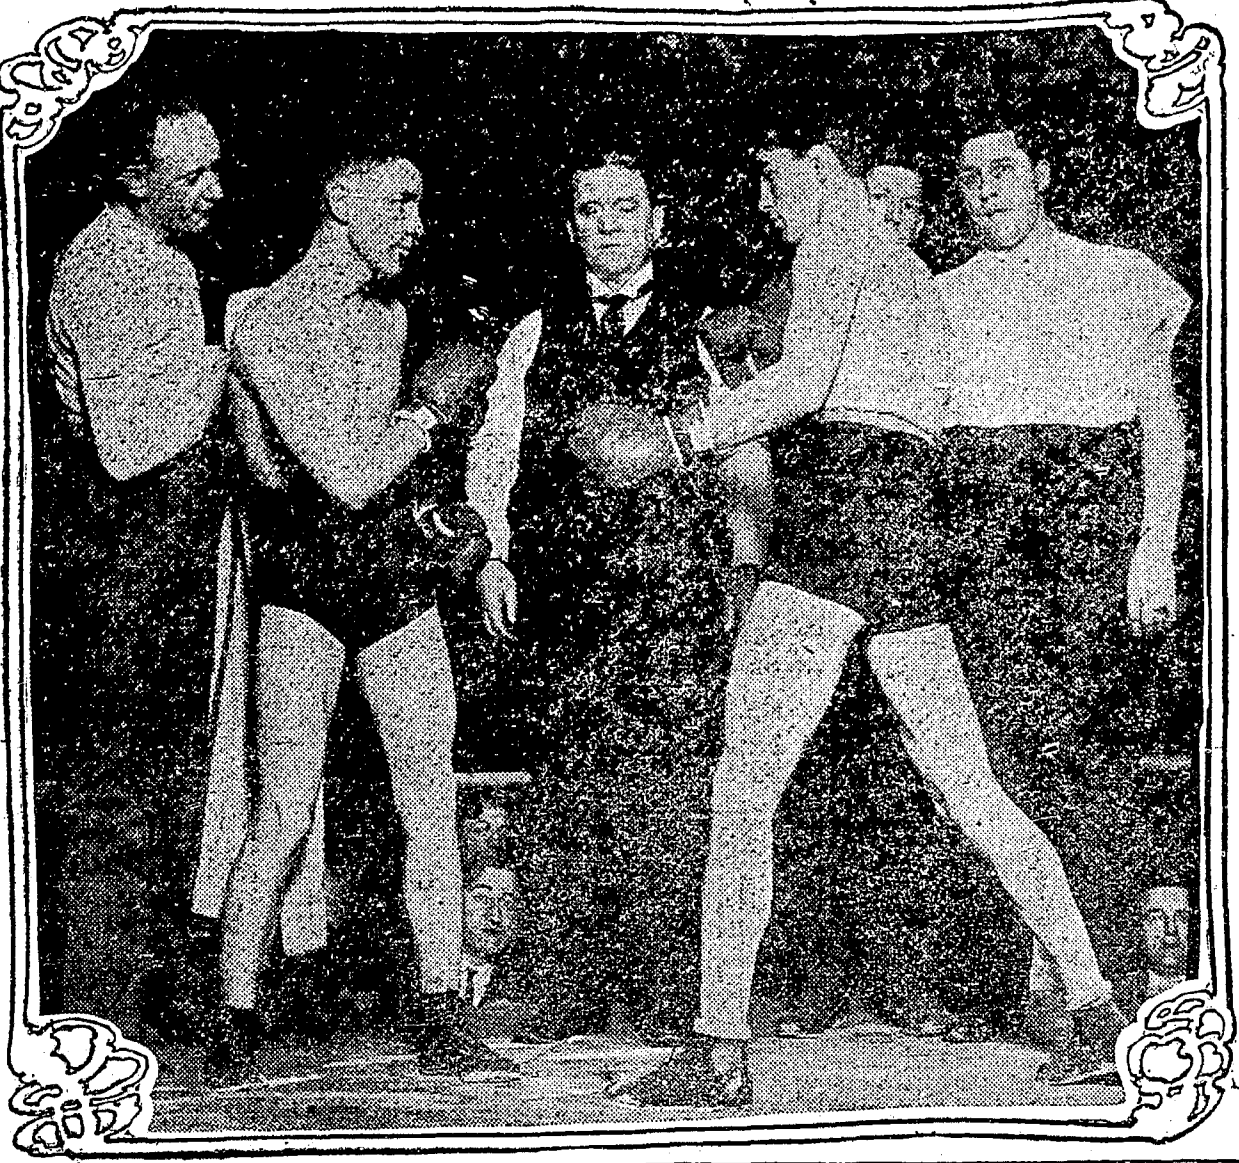

Hogan is one of those boxers that likes to fight in the ring, and when the opportunity came out loose with a rain of swings and uppercuts that bewildered his sparring mates. There was plenty of action and well-timed distance with the "One Rounder," and one could not but notice the improvement in his work over the night before. The time in his bout with Frankie Burns a year ago.

Hogan and Boag are sanguine that the fans will see a far better mill in action this night, as he is looking up with Murphy. The lust for the almighty dollar is strong in the heart of both these worthies and they know that a win in the ring will mean a big payday and bigger houses, so neither will leave a stone unturned to have Hogan in the best of shape.

It is possible that Hogan and Boag will be at the Wheelmen's show this evening, for the outcome of the Britton-Burns bout is of vital importance to both.

FIGHTERS CAUTIOUS.

The fight opened up with both fighters in a cautious mood, but hardly a blow had been struck before Britton began to show his class. He was quick to the front of the bout, for he stood straight up. The fans noticed this and gave him a royal cheer, but Britton was not fighting to win, he was fighting to live. He was quick to the front of the bout, for he stood straight up. Just before the battle, How Frankie Burns (left) and Jack Britton looked before the call of time last night at Piedmont Pavilion. Harry Foley is behind the Oaklander and Jack Costello is behind the Chicagoan.

ALLAN T. BAUM SPEAKS OF AFFAIRS IN BASEBALL

New President of Coast League Visits Oakland to Size Up Games Standing: To Improve Pastime

Allan T. Baum, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, was a visitor in Oakland yesterday, following his recent return from the East, where he went to attend the annual convention of baseball leagues and to look over the baseball field.

He has established temporary headquarters at the ball park in San Francisco, where he will be until permanent headquarters for the league are established in the downtown part of San Francisco.

"In this, my first season as president of the league," Baum said in answer to a query, "I have in view several innovations for the teams in the league which I mean to try out. The players will go into training on March 4 and with the first games will go a system of automatic fines for players ruled out by the umpires. So far as I know no other league has a system in effect such as this one I propose to try out, one which is planned to do away with a player so conducting himself that he is let out of the game."

DETAILS NOT WORKED OUT.

"I have known players, who, for some reason or other, want to get out of a game and who ask the umpire to let them out, even or else act in such a way that the umpire rules them out, very often without a fine. I haven't worked out all the details yet, but a system of some sort of fine to every man ruled out shall be instituted."

"Another innovation will be the numbering of every player on the field by means of a badge on his arm, with a corresponding number on the programs. This will do away with the necessity to a stranger having to ask his neighbor who the different players are and will, I think, add to the convenience of the spectator."

"Of course this coming season we will have our double-umpire system in operation. I have appointed the six men to fill those positions, three veterans and three new men. The veterans are McGreevey, Hildebrand and Finney, all of whom have made good, while the newcomers are Casey of Portland, Mertes of San Francisco and Wheeler of Los Angeles. I shall probably work one veteran with one new man for the first four or five months, and shall try to arrange the schedule so that the new men will not appear in their home towns until they are seasoned. I shall be looking away with any nervousness on their part."

NO ROWDYISM AT GAMES.

"As for my policies, one will be the absolute abolition of all rowdyism in the game, which must obtain if any league is to be successful. The game must be kept clean and straight and I shall do everything in my power to make it so. I plan to come in personal contact with every manager and player in the league, and so to try to make the league a united one. To the same end, while I shall have headquarters in San Francisco, I shall spend as much time visiting the various teams throughout the state, so that there shall be no cause to say that San Francisco is the league. San Francisco or any other one place and team does not make a league. There shall be no favorites."

Another innovation will be good umpiring, no matter how much it may cost. I mean to have the right sort of men for the places, men whose authority in decisions is unquestioned and who will be overriden. As a result I hope to make the league a big success, strong and able to stand on a level with the best in the country."

MONTE ATTELL STILL COMPLEMENTS ARRIVE SLAMMING AWAY AT GAME

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 25.—Monte Attell of Pittsburgh and Chick Hayes, the Memphis boy who has been training here, both bantamweights, fought ten fast rounds to a draw with a slight shade in favor of the local boxer. Hayes landed more clean blows, was faster and cut the front of the bout, for he stood straight up. The fans noticed this and gave him a royal cheer, but Britton was not fighting to win, he was fighting to live.

CLEVER GREEK WORKS HARD IN GYM FOR MAT BOUTS

William Demetral Best of the Wrestlers in Game Next to Gotch.

William Demetral, generally known as the "Greek Demon," is putting in some earnest and hard efforts at the Western Club, where he is doing his training. The name "Demon" is right, for he goes after his opponents, whether in training or in a real match, with a ferociousness that knows no bounds. While he was training for his match on the 15th he put two men out of commission, one having his neck wrenched, while the other had a broken arm.

While he was in Salt Lake he put several men out of the wrestling game and so on in every city where he does his training. This is not done intentionally, but comes about through his wildfire tactics which bewilder his opponents so that they forget to protect themselves. In other words, he works with such speed and strength that the others can't keep up the pace with him and in this way he comes his opponents' defenses.

Frank Gotch, who has wrestled Demetral on several occasions, claims that he is the man to be watched as the coming heavyweight champion, and usually finds it more difficult to defeat the Greek than any other wrestler in this country at present. Among the few fellows that Demetral has beaten are Zbyzsky, Mahmoud and in fact every wrestler any note in the world. He is conceded the best man of his weight today in America and challenges them all.

His opponent next Sunday at the West Oakland club is Ernest Berger, instructor of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. Berger has won many honors as a wrestler, but one being a championship medal presented by the German Emperor William as being the best wrestler in the German army, besides he has many other honors. He is conceded to be the best man on the western coast and has a large following among the Y. M. C. A. members, where he is instructor.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET TO BE HELD APRIL 15

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 25.—Samuel Johnson, athletic director, announced the date for the seventh annual interscholastic track meet to decide the state preparatory school championship. Invitations are being extended by the interscholastic board of governors to all high schools west of the Rocky mountains.

M'FARLAND EASILY DEFEATS WARD IN SIX ROUNDS

Britisher Shows That He Was Greatly Overrated Man in London Bouts.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—Jack Ward, the English lightweight, was completely outclassed by Paddy McFarland in their six-round bout before the National Athletic Club last night.

The Englishman apparently was bewildered by the Chicago boy's speed and in the second and third round he scarcely laid a glove on McFarland. In the third round in particular, McFarland smothered Ward with left jabs and right swings.

In the fourth round, McFarland struck Ward several times with his open glove and early in the fifth round when he again tried the same tactics, the crowd blessed and called for more action.

Toward the close of the sixth round, McFarland cut loose and drove the Englishman across the ring with right swings, one of which caused Ward to go to the mat. He was up in an instant and fought back hard until the bell rang. It was the consensus of opinion that McFarland was an easy winner.

JOHNSON RIDES WITH POLICE, BUT NOT FOR SPEEDING

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—There were a few moments today when Jack Johnson felt secure from arrest for speeding his racing car. He had Chief of Police McWeeney as his guest on a trip to the stockyards from the city hall.

The heavyweight champion had gone to ask the chief for permission to box in a theater. Chief McWeeney told him he had no time to talk that he was in a hurry to get to the stockyards.

"You can go with me if you're in such a hurry," said Johnson. "Hurry is my middle name."

There were a few thrills on the trip, but the chief warned Johnson that speed laws must be observed.

NEW TEAMS SIGNING PLAYERS FOR 1912 BALL SEASON

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals has received contracts from five of his players, two of them being members of last year's champions. The old players who came into line were Devlin, the veteran third baseman and utility infielder, and Grover Hartley, catcher.

The youngsters who sent in their contracts were Outfielder Johnson and Jacobs and Pitcher Munsel.

WALSH ESTATE EATEN AWAY BY HIS DEBTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Instead of leaving an estate of $900,000, as indicated by his will, John R. Walsh died a poor man. When all the claims against his estate were paid there will be little or nothing left.

These statements are made by Margulies Eaton, attorney for the estate, and were prompted by rumors of a prospective legal fight among the heirs, following the statement of Attorney William T. Abbott that Walsh was insane at the time he made his will.

"I can see no motive for a contest of Walsh's will," said Eaton. "The liabilities and assets so nearly balance that there will be nothing much left."

Walsh, whose fortune is said to have amounted to $15,000,000 when he was at the height of his career, left five children. They are: John V. Walsh, now in St. Louis; Richard W. Walsh, Mrs. E. L. Baldwin; Mrs. Katharine W. Baldwin and Miss Mary Walsh. Mrs. Mary L. Walsh, the widow, was named executrix in the will.

'ROOSEVELT' IS LOOSE; THAT IS, HE WAS SO

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—"I do not intend to run for President, but if my country calls me I will bow to the will of the people."

This generous statement was made by a short, pug-nosed looking individual who wandered into the police station today.

"Who are you?" inquired the desk sergeant.

"Hush, not so loud," cautioned the man. "I am Theodore Roosevelt. I want to hide here because the people follow me and want to feed me whisky. Don't let any reporters pass the door-keeper."

The man was placed in the Receiving Hospital, suspected of insanity. Investigation disclosed that he was Charles Cottrell, aged 43, a dishwasher.

"Open the door and I'll show you how fast I can run," the Colonel remarked indignantly as he sat in the hospital bed, then addressed an attendant familiarly as Chauncey M. Depew and called for a stenographer. The man spends the time dictating long, rambling speeches on the tariff and the trusts, and frequently tells an African hunting story in which he figures as the hero.

SAN RAFAEL RESIDENT MISSING TWO MONTHS

SAN RAFAEL, Jan. 25.—John Lafargue, 40 years old, President of the Lafargue French Laundry Company of this place, and proprietor of a hotel at Point Reyes, has been missing for almost two months, according to a report made to Sheriff Keating of Marin county by his relatives, who asked that a search for him be instituted.

No reason for Lafargue's mysterious disappearance is given by his relatives. Friends, however, say that family troubles had been causing him a great deal of worry shortly before he dropped out of sight. Employees in charge of the laundry here and the hotel in Point Reyes have received no word from the missing man.

After C. R. Cammazzo of Niles was severely burned in an accident and disfigured for life, according to his suit for a divorce from Alema Cammazzo, filed late yesterday in the Superior Court, his wife told him that she had no further use for him. Cammazzo also discovered, the complaint sets forth, that Mrs. Cammazzo had grown too fond of the company of other men.

FANS TO MAKE FIGHT AGAINST POLICE IN BOXING GOES

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—An effort will be made by promoters and managers of prize fights here to bring about the acquittal of Tom Gary and Joe Ketchel, who were arrested while boxing in the gymnasium of William O'Connell.

The promoters believe it will go a long way toward removing the stigma of boxing in Chicago. If they are fined, however, it is the general belief of those interested in the boxers that training cannot be done here in the city.

O'Connell, who was also arrested, was said to be charging a fee of 25 cents for admission. The police declared this the exhibition being added to a regular boxing match. O'Connell said the fee entitled the patron paying it to one day's exercise in the gymnasium. The case will be heard February 1.

HAD TO PROVE HE WAS NOT MORMON

Practical Jokers Make Trouble for Colonel Reynolds and Suffragettes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Practical jokers in Elmira, N. Y., caused some unpleasant moments for their friend, Colonel James N. Reynolds, who is in New York on a sight-seeing trip. The colonel's wife came to the city as one of the suffragist delegation of twenty women, and the colonel was the only male member of the party. The party registered at an uptown hotel, and grouped the names on the register with a large bracket opposite bearing the explanatory line "Elmira suffragists." Just outside of the bracket was the name of Colonel Reynolds.

Soon after the party arrived the following telegram was delivered to the hotel proprietor, sent by practical jokers in Elmira:

"Mormon elder with his wives stopping at your hotel, posing as suffragette party. Man short and with whiskers."

The hotel man hastened to find Colonel Reynolds and showed the telegram to him. He was dumb with astonishment, but eventually succeeded in establishing his identity to the satisfaction of all concerned.

GIRLS REWARDED FOR SAVING TRAIN

Brave Youngsters Given $100 Each by Southern Pacific Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Alma and Aileen Martin, the two little girls who dashed the Overland and saved it from a broken rail, have been handsomely rewarded by the Southern Pacific company for their bravery. To each has been sent a check for $100 with expressions of the company's appreciation.

The little girls are the daughters of a section foreman at Alta in the Sierras. Saturday, January 13, they observed a broken rail while playing about the tracks and at once gave the warning. They telephoned to the station agent at Towle, but the train already had left the depot. The agent told the girls that the only chance to stop the train rested with them. So the little totos hastened back to the track just in time to wave their bonnets in frantic fashion and bring the train to a stop.

It was found that the rail was split and in a dangerous condition. The train passed slowly over the dangerous spot. A report was made to the Southern Pacific and now has come the recognition of the service rendered by Aileen and Alma.

In his letter to the girls E. E. Calvin, general manager of the Southern Pacific, wrote:

"I want to thank you on behalf of the Southern Pacific company for the prompt and intelligent action taken by you when you discovered the broken rail near Alta on January 13, and as a small token of our appreciation I inclose herewith a check for $100 to your favor."

CHILD SAVED FROM DEATH BY AIRMAN

Girl Leaps From Floating Ice to Aeroplane When Drowning Is Imminent.

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., Jan. 25.—What is believed to be the first rescue from drowning by aeroplane occurred a mile south of this village. The circumstances surrounding the rescue are most spectacular.

Dora Pease, a 6 year old child, while returning from kindergarten, stopped a few minutes to watch men harvesting ice on the Connecticut river. Two large cakes of ice attracted her attention and, seating herself upon them, the little one began to amuse herself by propelling them along the frozen surface of the river.

Suddenly the ice cutters were aroused by a loud splash and a child's screams and were horrified to see the child seated on an ice cake floating rapidly down the river toward the Enfield falls, 150 feet away. An attempt to rescue the child by means of a long rope failed. Several of the men ran along the banks of the river, and one of them, throwing off his heavy boots, sprang after her. The cold water forced him to abandon the attempt, however, and in a few minutes the child was within a few feet of the roaring falls, thirty feet in height.

The attention of the panic stricken men was attracted from the child in her perilous position by a whizzing above them as Charles S. Jenkins, a shoe repairer and amateur aviator, swept down from the sky to the west and over the river. The ice cutters attracted his attention to the child, who seemed to them to be at the very brink of the falls. The child's attention had also been attracted to the aeroplane, which was swooping down upon her and, kneeling upon the ice raft, she waved her hands and screamed to the aviator. As the machine passed over the cakes of ice the child made a leap and a wild clutch, grasping a wooden support far above the engine, and was lifted to the seat by Jenkins.

Just as the child leaped the ice reached the brink of the falls and fell to the surging water below, minus its victim. The machine was brought to earth on the shore of the river and the little girl taken to her home.

TAFT APPROVES PRESIDIO PLANS

President Favors Expenditure of $1,250,000 to Improve Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—President Taft has approved the additional estimates for the improvement of the presidio, Fort Mason and Fort Miles, and they will be sent to Congress, where the California delegation will push them to adoption, so the work will be completed before January 1, 1915.

The President's approval was given after a conference at the White House yesterday with Secretary of War Stimson, Major-General Murray, commander of the Western Army division, and Representative Kahn, who explained to Taft the purpose of the estimates.

The estimates cover improvements to cost $1,250,000 and to include new buildings, military roads and dock equipment.

Representative Kahn desires the amounts to be carried in the sundry civil and Army appropriation measures. It is planned, in case the House will not include the full amounts wanted, to take the matter to the Senate committee.

President Moore and his associates called on the Ministers of the Latin American countries and outlined to them the plans of the San Francisco exposition. The Ministers promised their cooperation. The San Francisco delegates were accompanied by W. C. McGowan, of the diplomatic bureau of the State Department and John Barrett, president of the Pan-American Union.

Later call were made on Postmaster-General Hitchcock, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel. Curtis H. Lumberman and James McNab left for San Francisco yesterday.

The announcement that Ira B. Bennett had been appointed Washington representative of Charles C. Wilson, special counsel of the exposition, created interest here. Bennett is a newspaper man. Wilson was formerly secretary to Secretary of State Knox.

ALARMED AT MAIL ORDER BUSINESS

Lawyer Thinks Only Solution to Problem Is State and National Socialism.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 25.—If the country merchants are to save themselves from being swept out of existence by the big mail order houses they must organize for their own protection. L. C. Boyle of Kansas City, former attorney general of Kansas, said today in an address here before the Southwestern Lumbermen's Association meeting in annual session. Boyle said:

"I am forced to believe that if the farmer and laborer look at the matter aright the mail order business would be short-lived. Eliminate the country merchant and the business of distributing the necessities of life will of necessity center in the hands of a few great corporations. The only solution of the dilemma then will be state and national Socialism."

KNIFE FREES HIM OF CRIME'S DESIRE

Edward E. Grimmell Released From Prison a Normal Man.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Edward E. Grimmell, who is believed by surgeons and criminologists to have been transformed by an operation on his skull from a chronic criminal to a normally moral man, is back at his home here after serving three years of a nine-year sentence in Clinton prison at Dannamora. He was convicted of forgery in 1908.

The State parole board authorized Grimmell's release following his statement that the operation had completely freed him from certain mysterious impulses that formerly prompted him to steal and forge checks. The operation was performed in the prison in March, 1909, at Grimmell's request.

ALLEGED MATCH TRUST TO HAVE GREAT RIVAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—What promises to develop into one of the most bitter fights for supremacy in an industry in which this country is making remarkable strides, became known yesterday when announcement was made that the Nitelade Match Company of Norway had purchased 250 acres of ground at Verplanck's Point on the Hudson near Peekskill.

Emissaries from the Nitelade company hunting for a site for their factory have been followed by detectives in the employment of the match trust. In addition to a modern plant the company will erect dwellings for their 5,000 employees. The fight of the new concern will mainly be directed against the Diamond Match Company.

The human system can throw off most ills if it has sufficient reserve strength to call upon in emergency.

The amount of reserve energy on hand at any time is largely a matter of good digestion.

In these days of stress and strain and struggle, the nervous system is racked to pieces. Nervous indigestion is an almost universal ailment and the result of that indigestion is insufficient nourishment with which the body can build its store of reserve strength.

Alcohol in pure form and in small amounts is the best aid to digestion known to mankind.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is the purest whiskey made. It provides the system with alcohol free from harmful adulterants. In moderate amounts it so assists digestion that the improvement in general health is remarkable.

Use it yourself.

But those who can't take alcohol moderately should not take it at all.
